The new church and convent, shown in architect's sketches, will cost about $686,000, including furnishings and seat 930, Joseph F. Bontempo, architect, has set a work schedule of 380 days for construction and the building is expected to be completed about the end of May 1961.

It will occupy land adjacent to the former convent and athletic court of the Presentation Parochial School.

Face brick and large expanses of stained glass, set in steel, form the modernistic structure. Extending from floor to rooftop will be a 40-foot black, oxidized metal cross.

Beside and to the rear of the church will stand a bell tower for electronic bells, a gift from Midland Knights of Columbus, Council 2005.

Behind the main altar, a glass-ceramic mosaic will extend from floor to ceiling, picturing the Blessed Mother and her parents, St. Ann and St. Joachim.

Some 14 individual windows, together with the large glass exposure at the entrance, will make the nave extremely well-lighted and a departure from the dimness of many churches, the architect said.

In Oriental Atonement

Rhee's Chief Aide, Wife, Two Sons Commit Suicide

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Lee Ki-poong, his wife and two sons committed suicide today in oriental atonement for the revolt Lee's election as South Korea's vice president touched off.

Ten hours after Lee and his family died in a cottage on the grounds of the presidential mansion, the chief casualty of the revolt, ex-President Syngman Rhee, left the president's house 100 yards away and was driven with his Austrian-born wife to a modest hillside villa where they took up life as private citizens.

Sentimental, friendly crowds along Rhee's route applauded him and women wept, in sharp contrast to the bloody rioting which forced the 85-year-old father of modern Korea to end his 12-year rule over South Korea.

The old man waved and smiled occasionally at the crowds.

Rhee's successor, Acting President Huh Chung, named six independents to his cabinet, bringing the new government to nine members. All politically independent, they include a noted surgeon, an educator and two bankers.

Still vacant is the key post of minister of defense, as well as the agriculture and communications ministries.

2ND LT. KANG-SUK

Four more members of the National Assembly, all members of Rhee's Liberal party, resigned today. The Assembly had demanded that they quit, charging they were involved in rigging the March 15 elections which named Rhee to a fourth term and Lee Ki-poong to the vice presidency.

Earlier Huh's government issued warrants for the arrest of the former home minister, Choi In-kyu and six others charged with responsibility for the voting frauds.

Charges of fraud, intimidation and police brutality during the election set off the six-week revolt that overthrew the Rhee regime.

Choi has been in hiding since the bloody climax of the revolt April 19. There have been unconfirmed reports that he has fled the country.

Others whose arrest was ordered were Lee Kang-hak, former director of the hated National Police under Choi, and Han Hi-suk, Rhee's campaign manager.

The death of Lee and his family was announced by the army command, which still is in charge of maintaining order in Seoul and other major cities under martial law.

Witness Cites 2 'Deals'

3 House Members Claim Clark Involved In Payola

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three House members said today they have little or no doubt that Dick Clark is involved in payola.

Clark, a network TV disc jockey, says he has not taken undercover payments or favors for promoting records.

A witness testified Wednesday that Clark had received $31,575 for advising a record firm on what tunes would sell well. He also said Clark was allowed to buy a one-fourth interest in a Philadelphia record firm for $125—an interest he said Clark sold last year for about $15,000.

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Fla), a member of the House subcommittee which is looking into broadcasting practices, said today "it appears Clark took a very profitable form of payola."

Clark, a favorite of many teenagers, is due to appear Friday before the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee. But his name has come up often during two days of reopened hearings on undercover influences that may control the kind of music heard on the nation's airwaves.

Reps. John B. Bennett (R-Mich) and Peter F. Mack (D-Ill) agreed largely with Moss' comment to a newsman.

Orville Lunsford, a composer from Chillicothe, Ohio, testified Wednesday that he was told Clark would give his song "All American Boy" a good play only if a disc duplicating company owned by Clark got some of the business.

Record maker Harry Carlson, Cincinnati, who Lunsford said passed along that report, vigorously denied it.

Lunsford, rangy and heavily freckled, told the subcommittee he assigned the copyright on "The All American Boy" to Fraternity Records in November 1958 in return for a 2½-cent royalty from each record sold.

A month or so later, he continued, Carlson reported that he "had been advised by Dick Clark's business manager that Clark would really give the record a 'ride' but only if Fraternity Records gave Mallard Pressing Co. in Philadelphia an order for 50,000 records."

Mallard has been identified as a company once owned by Clark.

Lunsford added that he understood Carlson gave Mallard an order for 50,000 records in January 1959.

T-Men Nab 65 In Raids On U.S. Gambling Spots

Agents Say Figure May Reach 100

2 Cigar Stores In Steubenville Among Places Hit In Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP) — With stopwatch precision, U.S. Treasury agents invaded backroom bookie joints and numbers rooms in nearly 50 cities across the country Wednesday.

Mopping up today, they counted at least 65 arrests, and the figure may swell to 100.

The T-Men, after weeks and months of careful investigation, sprang their traps at more than 80 separate locations—backrooms of candy stores, taverns, private suburban homes, hotel rooms. In a few cases their quarry temporarily escaped the net.

The basis for the raids was this: Under federal law, any gambler must purchase a $50 tax stamp from the government, even if gambling is illegal in his state. If he doesn't have the stamp, he faces a maximum five-year prison sentence and $10,000 fine.

Though they found some evidence of connections between widely separated gambling operations, officials said, there was no immediate proof that any were tied together in a nationwide crime syndicate.

Treasury Men Arrest 8 In Ohio Game Raids

CLEVELAND (AP) — Treasury agents arrested eight persons in raids Wednesday afternoon in Cleveland and five other northeastern Ohio cities.

The Ohio raids were conducted simultaneously with raids on bookmaking establishments and other gambling haunts in about 40 cities in 22 other states.

Those nabbed in Ohio were charged with accepting bets on horse races without purchasing the federal $50 annual wagering stamp.

In Cleveland, Hugie Green, 56, was arrested at the Clair Doan Cigar Store, 655 E. 105th St., where agents said they confiscated betting slips and $800 in cash. Green was freed on $1,000 bond.

Persons arrested in other Ohio cities and the places raided were listed by Eldon Myers, chief of the Treasury Department Intelligence Division here, as follows:

Port Clinton—James Whiting, at Madison Recreation.

Bellevue—James J. Sidoti, at GI Joe's Recreation.

Sandusky—William Sidoti, brother of James; Tony Spino and John Strasser, at Even Break Cigar Store.

Steubenville — Mele Ribar, at Recreation Cigar Store, and Henry S. Zavacki, at Comet Cigar Store.

The agents left a third place in Steubenville when they were shown a federal gambling stamp issued from West Virginia.

A suspected gambling place on Meridian Road in Youngstown was visited by agents, armed with a search warrant, but they found no wagering there.

'DOWN WITH DUST'. These Shippingport housewives, tired of the showers of dust from River Rd., handed councilmen an ultimatum to oil the road or no traffic and today they implemented their demands by erecting these barricades to halt trucks, which stir up clouds of home-invading dirt. The trucks, to and from the Shippingport Sand & Gravel Co., are being detoured today and Council will meet Monday. Left to right are Mrs. John McLane, Mrs. John McCandless and son, John, and Mrs. Deloris Burris, wife of William Burris—Council's president.

4 Killed, Thousands Of Students Demonstrate

Martial Law Proclaimed In Turkey In Wake Of Anti-Government Riots

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—The government proclaimed martial law today following an outbreak of student rioting against Premier Adnan Menderes.

At least four persons were reported killed as thousands of students broke through police lines around the University of Istanbul and swarmed through the city demanding Menderes' resignation.

The demonstrations were sparked when the Menderes government ordered a three-month ban on all political activities.

About 5,000 students rushed through police cordons around the university and headed for the center of the city. Forty students and police were injured in fierce fights.

Witnesses said they saw three students and one policeman killed in the crush in front of the university. Police said they could not confirm these reports.

In view of the developing situation Menderes earlier had called off a flight to Iran to attend a meeting of the Central Treaty Organization.

About 800 university students refused to go to classes.

They marched down the streets singing the nation's independence anthem and shouting slogans praising the Korean youth who brought down the government of Syngman Rhee this week.

Police managed to herd the students into the university grounds.

Recent political developments in Turkey and South Korea display some parallels. Both lie on the edge of the Communist world, and both have developed fierce anti-Communist policies under pressure from the Reds.

But the governments in both countries also became increasingly authoritarian in recent years. Rhee's government fell amid opposition charges that his party tried to fix last month's elections. The Turkish opposition charges it is being hindered in election campaigning here.

Today's outbreak followed passage of a bill Wednesday night in the Turkish Parliament broadening the powers of a parliamentary committee that has been investigating the opposition Republican party of ex-President Ismet Inonu. Established by Parliament April 18, the committee is controlled by Menderes' Democrat party.

All political activity has been suspended during the investigation.

The new bill also empowers parliamentary investigators to stop, seize or suspend publications breaking the committee's decrees; seize any documents desired by the investigators, and impose sentences up to three years in prison for violators of the committee's rulings.

Clerks Assist Disabled With Primary Vote

The County Election Board today sent assistant clerks to hospitals and nursing homes in East Liverpool, Wellsville and Salem to supervise voting by patients who have applied for disabled voters' ballots for the primaries Tuesday.

The two clerks, a Republican and a Democrat working as a team, will continue the work Friday, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, explained. They expect to supervise voting of 5 of the ballots in Wellsville, one in Salem and 2 in East Liverpool.

Under state law, no one except a clerk or another official of the Election Board has a right to assist disabled voters who apply for ballots, O'Hanlon explained. In most cases, the assistant clerks simply witness the balloting and help supervise the mechanical details of handling the ticket.

However, if the applicant is blind or so infirm that he cannot mark the ballot, he may ask the clerk to assist him in the actual voting, supervising voting for the aged and infirm has been in effect several years.

Meanwhile, issuance of civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots will end at 4 this afternoon. They must be returned to the board's office by noon Friday if they're to be counted at the polls Tuesday.

By mid-morning, the board had issued a total of 211 civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots. At the same time, 52 had been issued to service personnel and civilians residing temporarily outside the U. S.

Possible Alternate At Summit

Democratic Attack Perils Some Of Nixon's Prestige

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's political stock climbed today on the strength of some Republican voting dividends in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

But a Democratic attack in Congress threatened to cancel out some of his rise in prestige as a result of being named as President Eisenhower's possible alternate at the approaching summit conference.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) moved up several notches on the Democratic presidential nomination board. Kennedy demonstrated by a write-in count of more than 175,000 votes that he is the favorite of rank and file party members who took the trouble to vote in Tuesday's Pennsylvania primary. Kennedy's total was nearly three-fourths of the write-ins for all Democratic candidates.

This showing could have a deep effect on the state's 81-vote convention delegation, headed by Gov. David L. Lawrence. Lawrence has been one of the holdouts in Kennedy's attempt to get his bandwagon rolling.

Unopposed on the GOP presidential preference ballot, Nixon rolled up a tremendous 944,000 vote count, which could surpass the 951,932 given President Eisenhower in 1956 when the count is completed.

Nixon went about as far as he could go toward making it certain that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York will not be the beneficiary of a draft movement at the convention. Rockefeller, who says he isn't an entry, got less than 11,000 write-in votes in second place, with returns still incomplete.

Where both were write-in beneficiaries in the Massachusetts balloting, Nixon was a 12 to 1 choice over Rockefeller.

Kennedy collected 95,914 write-ins, but the apathy registered when only about 6½ per cent of his home state's voters turned out was not lost on the politicians. In both states Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the party's choice, trailed far behind Kennedy.

Fifty-five House Democrats and two of their Senate colleagues assailed as transparently political Eisenhower's designation of him as a possible stand-in if the President has to leave to take care of "domestic requirements" before the summit conference ends.

U.S. Jury Indicts 3 For 'Shielding' Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted three persons for an alleged conspiracy to shield James R. Hoffa and other union leaders from a Senate investigation.

The indictment named Sally T. Hucks, former chief telephone operator at the Woodner Apartment Hotel in Washington where Hoffa maintains his headquarters; Joseph M. Williamson, an attorney of Urbana, Ill.; and Moss Herman, a New York member of Hoffa's Teamsters Union.

Man Catches Baby Falling Three Stories

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Richard Taylor and a friend were strolling back to work after their coffee break Wednesday when a baby dropped out of a third-story window, right into Taylor's arms.

"Best catch I've made in a long time," the father of three told the tot's mother.

Taylor and David Fitzgerald usually have their coffee in the Seattle public schools' administrative and service center, where they both have desk jobs. But Wednesday was a warm, sunny day so they decided to go out.

On the way back, said Taylor, "We heard a baby complaining, but good."

They looked up, and there was Richard Hudson, 16 months, clinging to the window sill.

"Fitz and I ran over," said Taylor, "and I caught him! I can't believe it."

Richard's mother, Mrs. Irvin Sullivan, checked with her daughter, Vicky, 2½, and reported: "Vicky pushed Rickey. She told me she did."

Pedestrian Chases Hat And Is Injured By Auto

A Burgettstown R. D. 1 pedestrian received a fractured left leg Wednesday about 3:15 p. m. when struck by a car while chasing his hat on the Penn-Lincoln Parkway near the Rosslyn Farms interchange at Pittsburgh.

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said Claude Stargen was taken to the Ohio Valley Hospital at McKees Rocks. The driver of the auto was Harry Weissenbach of Bexley, Columbus.

Warning Issued On Howling Dogs

Warden Robert J. Croyle warned today that a city ordinance makes it unlawful to harbor a dog which barks or howls to the annoyance of neighbors.

Croyle issued the warning after receiving a series of complaints on noisy dogs. One man complained his neighbor's dog howled all night, keeping him awake, the warden said.

He cited Section 207 of the City Code relating to noisy dogs: "No person shall keep or harbor any dog within the corporate limits of the city that frequently or continuously barks, howls or yelps in a loud manner or that in any manner disturbs the peace or quiet of another person. Each day's keeping or harboring of any such dog shall constitute a separate offense."

The Only Way That Makes Sense

A low-pressure notice that Vice President Nixon will take President Eisenhower's place if the summit conference in Paris lasts longer than a week has two points of interest.

First is the point that Mr. Nixon has been given another boost in political prestige by being designated in an official way as the stand-in for President Eisenhower in 1960's top gathering of international leadership. But it has quit being electrifying news that the President thinks his vice president is the second highest official of the government — almost co-equal to the President, himself, in responsibility and authority.

Americans have grown accustomed to the new concept of a vice president as the sharer of the presidential burden. Even though no one seems to be willing to think of a vice presidential nomination, the fact is that any future president who tried to cut back the newly towering prestige of the office would run head-on into hostile public opinion.

The American people have grown accustomed to the sense of security that grows out of knowledge that their vice president is on the job and fully capable of taking over when needed. They do not want to go back to the spirit of previous administrations when vice presidents were flunkies and hacks.

The other point of interest is the way the announcement served notice on other participants in the May conference that Mr. Eisenhower has no intention of staying in Paris longer than a week. This amounted to saying that if the conference hasn't jelled in a week it will be up to Vice President Nixon to take it from there.

This could have the effect of giving the other participants a sense of urgency, or it could have the effect of giving Mr. Nixon a chance to take credit for breaking up what might appear to be a log jam. It might even have the effect of making the other participants wait for Mr. Nixon, on the assumption he is likely to be the next President and the man they will be dealing with after Mr. Eisenhower.

Either way — any way — Richard M. Nixon will have a chance to come out of the summit conference next month with increased stature at a time when his potential rivals for the presidency are busily whittling one another down to size.

This May Be Utopia–Now

The government official who explains the consumer price index says the newest statistic is "what we can expect in an evenly balanced economy."

Though the index is up one-tenth of one per cent—a penny in $10—it is right where it should be in that respect for this time of year. It always goes up in the spring, because of a seasonal rise in food prices.

It went from 125.6 in February to 125.7 in March.

But in 1960 its goings up and its comings down are in balance. For example, increases in the cost of eating have been balanced by decreases in the cost of buying used cars. Bad weather slowed up used car sales. The reduced price of the new compacts depressed new car sales. That was bad for dealers, good for buyers. Or was it both good and bad for both?

This is the unresolved doubt that hangs over the consumer price index, which shows only what things would cost if all of them were purchased but does not show what people pay within the terms of their buying discretion. Not everybody buys a car. Not everybody pays more for food in the spring. Not everybody is a mechanistic consumer with no power of discretion over purchases. Some people shop for food on a fixed budget; they eat less when food costs more.

Yet the consumer price index is regarded as a measure of what it costs to live. Many labor agreements provide for automatic increases based on the index. To the extent that automatic decreases also are possible, a persistent decline in the index would be hailed as a national tragedy. But at the other end, persistent increases in the index are hailed as signs of inflation and inveighed against by everyone who embraces the doctrine that inflation is ruinous and must be stopped at all costs.

But whether the country is on its way to ruin by the low road or the high road, an optimist can guess that in 1960 it may be passing through Utopia.

This may be the precious, timeless moment of even balance. This may be the condition yearned for by all perfectionists, the instant of perfect balance. An official in the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics says so.

Look about you and note well how things are in the spring of 1960. In years to come, little children will want to know how it was just before the golden era ended—the wonderful period of perfection that passed amid so much grumbling and grousing no one noticed it.

Known To Intangible

The long-awaited straightening has begun on the "horseshoe curve" on Route 7 at Williamsport.

The section of highway long has been recognized as one of Columbiana County's chief traffic hazards. By July 1961, the $547,000 project should be completed, providing a smoother flow of traffic and reducing the strain upon both driver and auto.

But even then, there still will be danger—as there is danger on every street and highway for those who drive without proper consideration for safety. When the present known hazard has been erased through engineering skill, there still will remain the intangible hazards of speed and carelessness.

Who Speaks For The Majority

Plans for the management- labor conference to be held by White House invitation have been changed, it is reported, to get around opposition by employer groups like the National Association of Manufacturers and U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

They did not believe it was possible for anyone to speak in their behalf. Therefore, only individual employers will be asked to take part in the conference. This raises the question of who has a right to speak in behalf of labor.

This is done traditionally by officials of labor unions. For instance, George Meany, president of AFL-CIO, is taking the leading speaking role in plans for the forthcoming conference. But can any union official claim to be speaking for American labor?

Unions do not claim to represent a majority of employed persons. Nor are the unions united. AFL-CIO leadership does not represent the Teamsters Union, for example —largest of all unions. In some occupations and industries two or more unions compete for members and prestige. A majority of American working people belong to no union.

This is one of the problems of achieving harmony of industrial relations. Employers and workers cannot be formed into clearly defined groups, with spokesmen to represent them. Their interests and views are crisscrossed and interwoven. Yet, they are frequently dealt with as though they were uniformed opponents in battle, each side having its own David and Goliath to fight it out between the lines, with Philistines and Israelites accepting the outcome.

In what could be one of the momentous meetings of our times, one of the puzzles to be tackled is how people called "employers" and others called "employes" can be represented properly in conferences called to deal with employer-employe relations.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Roy Cohn is the promotor of the Johannson-Patterson fight and we wonder how Joseph Welch would fare if he wrote in asking for a couple of ringside seats. There's a chance Mr. Cohn may insist that in case of a knockdown the referee must command, "Don't get up; just answer yes or no."

The fight has been so much litigation there may be special seating sections for lawyers, process servers, jurists, law students and American Bar Association, with the announcer bawling, "May the better litigant emerge triumphant."

METROPOLITAN OPERA is to do the Sacco-Vanzetti case in cooperation with the Ford Foundation. This can kill grand opera and the truce on acrobatics in the opera house lobby. Following the trend on stage and screen, we are to get grand opera with a "message."

Sacco and Vanzetti were two anarchists tried, convicted and executed in the Bay State long ago as robbers and killers.

For decades the court procedures have been lambasted in books, poems and dramas but if the case belongs in grand opera so do Lizzie Borden, the Brinks robbery and Valentine Day garage murders.

Whether the pair were guilty or not, how does a South Braintree crime fit up there with La Boheme, Salome, Lohengrin and The Bartered Bride? Who goes to grand opera to see and hear the Boston court decision reviewed with multiple fiddles, clarinets, overweight divas and fat baritones whose costumes fit too tightly?

Judge Thayer, Gov. Fuller and A. Lawrence Lowell were top figures in the Sacco-Vanzetti case. Let's hope Ford and Rudolf Bing don't show the judge in tights, a Harvard president singing tenor and a Bay State governor as a second string Pagliacci.

A professor who ran away with the circus is quitting his $1,500 a week lion taming act to return to his profession. As any teacher will testify they can get more money in lion cages but there's more excitement and danger trying to get modern kids to do what they're told. And a lion has no parents who rush down crying, "You let my kids alone."

Charles de Gaulle presents a novelty of a great leader who doesn't depend on dental work and personality smile. This is a shock to millions of Americans who have always believed the ear-to-ear grin is the key to success.

U.S. Armed Forces have been buying medicines in Europe at half the price asked in U.S. Yes, but Europe doesn't spend so much money for maps showing routes through the human system taken by pills.

Chet Bowles, chairman of the Democratic Platform Committee, is a Kennedy man. This can be the first case of a Yale man on a Harvard team.

Hugh O'Brian, who plays Wyatt Earp, may be the star of American Western to be taken to Russia. O'Brian purposely makes Earp a glamor guy but Wyatt by all the records, was a taciturn, homespun, non theatrical type. So its okay with us as long as the State Department doesn't cast Mickey Rooney as Doc Holiday, Pat Boone as Buffalo Bill and Jack E. Leonard as Gen. Custer.

Rustlers!

Nixon, Labor Leaders Confer

By Victor Riesel

I have a contribution to the collection of private papers which some day will tell the full story of the 1960 presidential campaign. It's a letter I received the other morning from the vice president of the United States. Excerpts from it reveal a side of Richard Nixon which doesn't frequently come across to the public: "As you probably noted . . ." he wrote on April 19, "I had a meeting in my office recently, which was arranged by Jim Mitchell, with David Dubinsky, Jacob Potofsky and Alex Rose.

Victor Riesel

"They came in to urge support of raising the minimum wage and extending the coverage of the wage-hour act. They also expressed concern over foreign competition of goods produced by cheap labor.

"While they do not recommend a change in our reciprocal trade policy, they do feel that the administration should do everything possible to get other countries to impose voluntary quotas upon such products so as to avoid building up pressure for raising tarrifs on our part."

SO MUCH for the official business at hand brought to Nixon by men of whom it could be said they literally helped create Franklin D. Roosevelt and his New Deal. The letter from the vice president then continued:

"The meeting was cordial and friendly in tone. As we were breaking up, they informed me that they had seen other potential candidates for president who are members of the Senate.

"I replied by pointing out that I was the only one of the potential candidates to whom they have talked that would not receive their support! But I went on to say that even though I was well aware of this fact that I thought it was essential for anyone who might be president of the United States to maintain communication on a friendly basis with men who represented such a large and significant part of our population," Nixon wrote.

"As I told Jim Mitchell afterwards, I did not intend or expect the meeting with them to change their attitude toward me politically.

"But Jim thought it was worthwhile for them to see that I didn't wear horns!

"With every good wish, Sincerely, Dick Nixon."

Seldom in a non-smoke filled room has there been a more compact gathering of realists. The vice president smiled when he talked of their politics. The others grinned friendly-like. One of the labor leaders then said feelingly:

"Mr. Vice President, you are right. We will support your opponent. But we do want to say that we are pleased with what happened here. We respect you, in deed, for the eminent fairness in your attitude towards the problems we raised in our discussions."

I pass on this quote as I got it from one of the visitors after he had been released from the implied promise to keep the discussion off the record.

OFFICIALLY Nixon will hear of labor's support of the Democratic ticket sometime late on the afternoon of Aug. 17. Two days earlier, the AFL-CIO's executive council will meet in Chicago.

They will examine all the records of both conventions. They will then recommend endorsement of the Democratic party's candidate.

This decision will go to the "general board," a group made up of the presidents of all AFL-CIO national unions. They'll gather on Aug. 17.

For the moment, however, the big story here is not political. It is rather that there can be such a give and take as there was between Dick Nixon and the New Deal labor leaders.

Both know what each other desires; both sides are aware of each other's position; both agree to disagree with the warmth of a handshake.

That's what makes this land of ours strong. Should any outsider test that strength, both sides would swiftly blend into a unified one.

Pleasant Get-Together

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The American people are being prepared not to expect much more from the Paris summit meeting May 16 than a pleasant get-together between the West and the Soviet Union.

Is anything going to be solved there? Probably not.

President Eisenhower Wednesday and French President Charles de Gaulle last week played down the idea of solutions and played up the hope the summit would produce better relations with the Soviets.

A great deal of time, a number of meetings, and a lot of visiting back and forth by heads of state and their foreign ministers have gone into the preparations of the Western Allies for the Paris conference.

What they seem to lack is new ideas. What they seem to have is rigidity. If all that the statesmen and diplomats have said — in speeches, statements and communiques—could be wrapped into one tight bundle this would be it:

They are determined to stand solidly together in resisting Soviet demands; they haven't talked of making demands of their own.

At his news conference Wednesday Eisenhower was asked about his hopes for the summit session with De Gaulle, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

"I think the most we can hope for, at this time," he said, "is ease of tensions, so some evidence that we are coming closer together — sufficiently so that people have a right to feel a little bit more confident in the world in which they are living and its stability.

"Now, how this might come about I don't know. There is, of course, the subject of ceasing of tests, and with a controlled system for that, for developing some step in disarmament, and for greater contacts, particularly cultural contacts. I think that there are a number of ways in which this might begin. And that's about all you can say."

This was pretty much an echo of what De Gaulle had said repeatedly at different places on his visit to Washington last week.

He told a National Press Club luncheon that the matter of relations between East and West is the question with which the summit conference "primarily must grapple."

He said this would create the atmosphere for handling other problems like disarmament, Germany, and aid for underdeveloped countries. He said solutions for them "at the moment are impossible."

He said "what is paramount" is to begin the easing of relations between the Soviet Union and the Western Allies.

It takes four to dance to this tune and since Khrushchev is the fourth member of the quartet, everything depends on whether he is in the mood for dancing.

The last time he was heard from—over the weekend in Baku —he sounded like a man in a very foul mood, indeed. He seemed to be threatening the West, like this: You'd better talk business at Paris, or else.

Eisenhower Wednesday declined to take Khrushchev's weekend belligerency very seriously. "It's just more of the same," Eisenhower said. He pointed out Khrushchev knew Eisenhower wouldn't go to the summit at all under a threat.

But Douglas Dillon, undersecretary of state, last week made a speech which sounded fiery from the American side. If you read Dillon's fine print, however, you'd notice the blaze he created wasn't much more than match burning.

Since the summit meeting is now only 19 days away—and suddenly the two sides are growling a bit—maybe we're in for some propaganda from both sides for a meeting which won't produce anything solid at all.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The organization of a Hancock County Fair Association, with show grounds at Rock Springs Park, was proposed by Walter G. Grumbel, county agricultural agent.

Prof. H. F. Laughlin, supervisor of music in the East Liverpool public schools, was named president of the Ohio Valley Band Tournament.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Harry Martin and Charles Tracey were ranked among the upper 25 per cent in Columbiana County in the general scholarship tests for Ohio high school seniors.

Clarence Amos was elected president of the Grant St. Civic League.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Board of Education approved a new two-year contract for Merrill Hall as head basketball coach at East Liverpool High School.

Miss Elia DeRenzo, a senior at Midland High School, was crowned basketball queen for 1949-50.

Four city pastors were selected to conduct the annual baccalaureate service for the high school graduating class in June.

Gilded Insecurity

By David Lawrence

Violence Betrays International Unrest

Showmanship seems to have replaced realism. The emphasis now is on spectacular visits by leaders—both the elected and the self-appointed. Parades and fanfare, addresses in the August atmosphere of legislative assemblies, banquets and ceremonies, high-sounding communiques and statements written in unctuous phrases—all these are considered by a busy, if not bewildered, populace as signifying a trend toward peace and well-being.

David Lawrence

Wishful thinking and the art of make-believe have always obscured the unpleasant facts of life, particularly on the international scene.

For when has the world been more distrubed in time of so-called "peace" than it is today?

From almost every part of the globe come the dispatches telling of human violence.

In our own country, just a few years ago, Gov. Faubus of Arkansas was being crucified because he called out the militia to prevent the bloodshed he feared at Little Rock and the cry was for obedience to the "law of the land." Yet today in Biloxi, Miss., there is bloodshed, as Negroes and whites take the law into their own hands.

Instead of nationwide evidence of indignation, there is a wave of sympathy and encouragement for these so-called "non-violent demonstrations."

The foreign offices of France and Britain, however, have thus far refrained from issuing any statements "deploring" the events at Biloxi.

IN MANY COUNTRIES, as the "big men" are welcomed on visits of friendship and good will, there is underneath a feeling of insecurity.

In France, where Gen. De Gaulle has assumed virtually dictatorial powers, 200,000 Frenchmen "demonstrated" a few days ago demanding a special meeting of Parliament. In French Algeria, there is revolution and disorder and Tunisia, supporting the rebels, masses troops on its borders to meet alleged French army violations of its territory.

The French President is nevertheless acclaimed in America as a symbol of peace and progress.

In Italy, mobs instigated by Communists seek to grab power in certain cities and towns.

In Venezuela, open revolt is threatened, as the government bans public meetings after street rioting in two of the country's largest cities.

In Cuba, a dictator is ruining his country's economy while his Communist-ridden regime conducts a violent anti-American campaign.

In the Middle East, there is friction and an uneasy peace.

In India, there is apprehension over the aggressive behavior of the Red Chinese.

In Africa, there is turbulence as the white man, outnumbered, strives to maintain economic as well as political power lest untrained and inexperienced natives take over and alienate foreign capital and retard economic development.

In South Africa, the crisis as between white and black has produced a sensation throughout the world, which knows little of the intricacies and complexities of the problem but applies pressure just the same to drive the white man from political power in huge continent of smouldering warfare.

In Tokyo, a mob of 9,000 students, shouting anti-American slogans, riots against the U.S.-Japan Security Treaty. Similar demonstrations by 200,000 persons occur throughout Japan.

In Korea, encouraged by the U.S. Department of State, fractional strife has reached a climactic point and there is today danger of military action by the Communists in North Korea who may take advantage of those disturbed political conditions in South Korea to start another war.

Conferences between the United States and its 14 allies in the Korean War have just been called to discuss the dangers of such a contingency.

WHILE THESE troubles are sweeping the so-called "free world," what's going on behind the iron curtain? Why is there no demand for free elections in the Soviet Union and in Poland and Hungary and the other captive states?

How can there be open intervention in the affairs of a sovereign nation like the Korean republic and yet no move toward free choice in elections in the various countries of the Soviet bloc?

Do freedom's leaders recognize the iron curtain boundaries as "off limits"?

Is Tibet's tragedy already forgotten? There is pressure now even from prominent churchmen in America for recognition of the Red China government—which would amount, of course, to a desertion of the anti-Communist allies of the free world in the Far East.

Where shall one look for hope that a troubled world may somehow compose its difficulties?

The germ of unrest is to be found in the grass roots of the farm and in the ugly basements of city slums in Latin America, eastern Europe and parts of western Europe.

Tens of millions of people are living in poverty in Asia and Africa. Mr. Khrushchev has been diverting attention from his own neglect of Soviet internal problems. A summit conference—the beginning of a series—is to open on May 16 at Paris, at which there is to be more and more fraternizing with the evil dictator of an oppressed nation.

World opinion still is the most potent force for good but world opinion that lazily worships, as it did in the days of czars and monarchs, the trappings of high office isn't going to accomplish much for freedom till it recognizes truth and reality once more.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

You can have your favorite springtime scene and I'll have mine —a dog loping across a street intersection with six feet of chain dragging behind him.

One building opportunity that shouldn't be overlooked and clearly hasn't been is the sale of white cardboard in Washington, D. C.—the kind suitable for making placards for pickets. The same entrepreneur could sell the sticks.

I feel more certain this year than ever before that someone, somewhere, must have found something better to spread on highways than the piecrust material that falls apart every winter in this climate and must be replaced every summer.

It should not have surprised me, but it did, to hear baseball fans in our nation's capital being as excited about their perennial losers as fans elsewhere are about potential pennant winners. I had forgotten that a real fan cheers for his heroes, not because his heroes win more games than they lose.

Having read everything I can get my eyes on about plans afoot in Detroit, I find they fit in with my personal conviction that the day of the big car for ordinary ownership and use is past and gone, along with the mansions that finally gave way to the ranch-house and the split-level dwellings now in vogue.

Someone should work on an electric eye dingus that will turn off a television set when no one is looking. This would save electricity, wear and tear and get rid of the myth that a TV set is under observation whenever it is in operation.

People who think it's tricky to schedule painters, electricians, carpenters, plumbers and landscapers should have a whirl sometime at booking a sheep shearer and getting him to perform this once-a-year-task on schedule.

I wonder if gamblers ever make book on what happens to, say, 1,000 bulbs put out in the fall for spring blooming. Here would be a tamper-proof long-term betting proposition that should be as attractive as roulette on an honest wheel.

My favorite personal-experience story about track—I have a story for every sport—concerns the time I tried out for the half-mile run. The athletic department gave me the equipment and promised an assistant coach and stopwatch when I thought I was ready. The big day came. I did my best. But when I crossed the finish line I was all alone. The coach was walking away. "I got tired of waiting," he explained.

My belief is that education never can lose sight safely of what it means to educate—to lead out from the pupil whatever intelligence he may have. This cannot be done by any means other than a competent teacher's skill in a relationship never attained in overcrowded, mechanistic school systems.

Men's sweaters seemed to me to detract from the appearance of their wearers, and I regard sweaters as garments for sports and leisure, as far as men are concerned. For women, I confess my view is not the same.

If the lowest form of wit is the pun, the lowest form of show business must be the imitation, whereby a performer confesses he has no originality.

It should not be difficult with a moderate amount of soliciting to eat a majority of lunches and dinners at someone else's expense, and I have a hunch this may be a hidden source of saving for many people who don't really need the money.

Known To Intangible

The long-awaited straightening has begun on the "horseshoe curve" on Route 7 at Williamsport.

The section of highway long has been recognized as one of Columbiana County's chief traffic hazards. By July 1961, the $547,600 project should be completed, providing a smoother flow of traffic and reducing the strain upon both driver and auto.

But even then, there still will be danger—as there is danger on every street and highway for those who drive without proper consideration for safety. When the present known hazard has been erased through engineering skill, there still will remain the intangible hazards of speed and carelessness.

Who Speaks For The Majority

Plans for the management- labor conference to be held by White House invitation have been changed, it is reported, to get around opposition by employer groups like the National Association of Manufacturers and U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

They did not believe it was possible for anyone to speak in their behalf. Therefore, only individual employers will be asked to take part in the conference. This raises the question of who has a right to speak in behalf of labor.

This is done traditionally by officials of labor unions. For instance, George Meany, president of AFL-CIO, is taking the leading speaking role in plans for the forthcoming conference. But can any union official claim to be speaking for American labor?

Unions do not claim to represent a majority of employed persons. Nor are the unions united. AFL-CIO leadership does not represent the Teamsters Union, for example —largest of all unions. In some occupations and industries two or more unions compete for members and prestige. A majority of American working people belong to no union.

This is one of the problems of achieving harmony of industrial relations. Employers and workers cannot be formed into clearly defined groups, with spokesmen to represent them. Their interests and views are crisscrossed and interwoven. Yet, they are frequently dealt with as though they were uniformed opponents in battle, each side having its own David and Goliath to fight it out between the lines, with Philistines and Israelites accepting the outcome.

In what could be one of the momentous meetings of our times, one of the puzzles to be tackled is how people called "employers" and others called "employes" can be represented properly in conferences called to deal with employer-employe relations.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Roy Cohn is the promotor of the Johannson-Patterson fight and we wonder how Joseph Welch would fare if he wrote in asking for a couple of ringside seats. There's a chance Mr. Cohn may insist that in case of a knockdown the referee must command, "Don't get up; just answer yes or no."

The fight has been so much litigation there may be special seating sections for lawyers, process servers, jurists, law students and American Bar Association, with the announcer bawling, "May the better litigant emerge triumphant."

METROPOLITAN OPERA is to do the Sacco-Vanzetti case in cooperation with the Ford Foundation. This can kill grand opera and the truce on acrobatics in the opera house lobby. Following the trend on stage and screen, we are to get grand opera with a "message."

Sacco and Vanzetti were two anarchists tried, convicted and executed in the Bay State long ago as robbers and killers.

For decades the court procedures have been lambasted in books, poems and dramas but if the case belongs in grand opera so do Lizzie Borden, the Brinks robbery and Valentine Day garage murders.

Whether the pair were guilty or not, how does a South Braintree crime fit up there with La Boheme, Salome, Lohengrin and The Bartered Bride? Who goes to grand opera to see and hear the Boston court decision reviewed with multiple fiddles, clarinets, overweight divas and fat baritones whose costumes fit too tightly?

Judge Thayer, Gov. Fuller and A. Lawrence Lowell were top figures in the Sacco-Vanzetti case. Let's hope Ford and Rudolf Bing don't show the judge in tights, a Harvard president singing tenor and a Bay State governor as a second string Pagliacci.

A professor who ran away with the circus is quitting his $1,500 a week lion taming act to return to his profession. As any teacher will testify they can get more money in lion cages but there's more excitement and danger trying to get modern kids to do what they're told. And a lion has no parents who rush down crying, "You let my kids alone."

Charles de Gaulle presents a novelty of a great leader who doesn't depend on dental work and personality smile. This is a shock to millions of Americans who have always believed the ear-to-ear grin is the key to success.

U.S. Armed Forces have been buying medicines in Europe at half the price asked in U.S. Yes, but Europe doesn't spend so much money for maps showing routes through the human system taken by pills.

Chet Bowles, chairman of the Democratic Platform Committee, is a Kennedy man. This can be the first case of a Yale man on a Harvard team.

Hugh O'Brian, who plays Wyatt Earp, may be the star of American Western to be taken to Russia. O'Brian purposely makes Earp a glamor guy but Wyatt by all the records, was a taciturn, homespun, non theatrical type. So its okay with us as long as the State Department doesn't cast Mickey Rooney as Doc Holiday, Pat Boone as Buffalo Bill and Jack E. Leonard as Gen. Custer.

Nixon, Labor Leaders Confer

By Victor Riesel

I have a contribution to the collection of private papers which some day will tell the full story of the 1960 presidential campaign. It's a letter I received the other morning from the vice president of the United States. Excerpts from it reveal a side of Richard Nixon which doesn't frequently come across to the public: "As you probably noted . . ." he wrote on April 19, "I had a meeting in my office recently, which was arranged by Jim Mitchell, with David Dubinsky, Jacob Potofsky and Alex Rose.

Victor Riesel

"They came in to urge support of raising the minimum wage and extending the coverage of the wage-hour act. They also expressed concern over foreign competition of goods produced by cheap labor.

"While they do not recommend a change in our reciprocal trade policy, they do feel that the administration should do everything possible to get other countries to impose voluntary quotas upon such products so as to avoid building up pressure for raising tarrifs on our part."

SO MUCH for the official business at hand brought to Nixon by men of whom it could be said they literally helped create Franklin D. Roosevelt and his New Deal. The letter from the vice president then continued:

"The meeting was cordial and friendly in tone. As we were breaking up, they informed me that they had seen other potential candidates for president who are members of the Senate.

"I replied by pointing out that I was the only one of the potential candidates to whom they have talked that would not receive their support! But I went on to say that even though I was well aware of this fact that I thought it was essential for anyone who might be president of the United States to maintain communication on a friendly basis with men who represented such a large and significant part of our population," Nixon wrote.

"As I told Jim Mitchell afterwards, I did not intend or expect the meeting with them to change their attitude toward me politically.

"But Jim thought it was worthwhile for them to see that I didn't wear horns!

"With every good wish. Sincerely, Dick Nixon."

Seldom in a non-smoke filled room has there been a more compact gathering of realists. The vice president smiled when he talked of their politics. The others grinned friendly-like. One of the labor leaders then said feelingly:

"Mr. Vice President, you are right. We will support your opponent. But we do want to say that we are pleased with what happened here. We respect you, in deed, for the eminent fairness in your attitude towards the problems we raised in our discussions."

I pass on this quote as I got it from one of the visitors after he had been released from the implied promise to keep the discussion off the record.

OFFICIALLY Nixon will hear of labor's support of the Democratic ticket sometime late on the afternoon of Aug. 17. Two days earlier, the AFL-CIO's executive council will meet in Chicago.

They will examine all the records of both conventions. They will then recommend endorsement of the Democratic party's candidate. This decision will go to the "general board," a group made up of the presidents of all AFL-CIO national unions. They'll gather on Aug. 17.

For the moment, however, the big story here is not political. It is rather that there can be such a give and take as there was between Dick Nixon and the New Deal labor leaders.

Both know what each other desires; both sides are aware of each other's position; both agree to disagree with the warmth of a handshake.

That's what makes this land of ours strong. Should any outsider test that strength, both sides would swiftly blend into a unified one.

Pleasant Get-Together

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The American people are being prepared not to expect much more from the Paris summit meeting May 16 than a pleasant get-together between the West and the Soviet Union.

Is anything going to be solved there? Probably not.

President Eisenhower Wednesday and French President Charles de Gaulle last week played down the idea of solutions and played up the hope the summit would produce better relations with the Soviets.

A great deal of time, a number of meetings, and a lot of visiting back and forth by heads of state and their foreign ministers have gone into the preparations of the Western Allies for the Paris conference.

What they seem to lack is new ideas. What they seem to have is rigidity. If all that the statesmen and diplomats have said — in speeches, statements and communiques—could be wrapped into one tight bundle this would be it:

They are determined to stand solidly together in resisting Soviet demands; they haven't talked of making demands of their own.

At his news conference Wednesday Eisenhower was asked about his hopes for the summit session with De Gaulle, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

"I think the most we can hope for, at this time," he said, "is ease of tensions, so some evidence that we are coming closer together — sufficiently so that people have a right to feel a little bit more confident in the world in which they are living and its stability.

"Now, how this might come about I don't know. There is, of course, the subject of ceasing of tests, and with a controlled system for that, for developing some step in disarmament, and for greater contacts, particularly cultural contacts. I think that there are a number of ways in which this might begin. And that's about all you can say."

This was pretty much an echo of what De Gaulle had said repeatedly at different places on his visit to Washington last week.

He told a National Press Club luncheon that the matter of relations between East and West is the question with which the summit conference "primarily must grapple."

He said this would create the atmosphere for handling other problems like disarmament, Germany, and aid for underdeveloped countries. He said solutions for them "at the moment are impossible."

He said "what is paramount" is to begin the easing of relations between the Soviet Union and the Western Allies.

It takes four to dance to this tune and since Khrushchev is the fourth member of the quartet, everything depends on whether he is in the mood for dancing.

The last time he was heard from—over the weekend in Baku —he sounded like a man in a very foul mood, indeed. He seemed to be threatening the West, like this: You'd better talk business at Paris, or else.

Eisenhower Wednesday declined to take Khrushchev's weekend belligerency very seriously. "It's just more of the same," Eisenhower said. He pointed out Khrushchev knew Eisenhower wouldn't go to the summit at all under a threat.

But Douglas Dillon, undersecretary of state, last week made a speech which sounded fiery from the American side. If you read Dillon's fine print, however, you'd notice the blaze he created wasn't much more than match burning.

Since the summit meeting is now only 19 days away—and suddenly the two sides are growling a bit—maybe we're in for some propaganda from both sides for a meeting which won't produce anything solid at all.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The organization of a Hancock County Fair Association, with show grounds at Rock Springs Park, was proposed by Walter G. Grumbel, county agricultural agent.

Prof. H. F. Laughlin, supervisor of music in the East Liverpool public schools, was named president of the Ohio Valley Band Tournament.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Harry Martin and Charles Tracey were ranked among the upper 25 per cent in Columbiana County in the general scholarship tests for Ohio high school seniors.

Clarence Amos was elected president of the Grant St. Civic League.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Board of Education approved a new two-year contract for Merrill Hall as head basketball coach at East Liverpool High School.

Miss Elia DeRenzo, a senior at Midland High School, was crowned basketball queen for 1949-50.

Four city pastors were selected to conduct the annual baccalaureate service for the high school graduating class in June.

Gilded Insecurity

By David Lawrence

Violence Betrays International Unrest

Showmanship seems to have replaced realism. The emphasis now is on spectacular visits by leaders—both the elected and the self-appointed. Parades and fanfare, addresses in the August atmosphere of legislative assemblies, banquets and ceremonies, high-sounding communiques and statements written in unctuous phrases—all these are considered by a busy, if not bewildered, populace as signifying a trend toward peace and well-being.

David Lawrence

Wishful thinking and the art of make-believe have always obscured the unpleasant facts of life, particularly on the international scene.

For when has the world been more distrubed in time of so-called "peace" than it is today?

From almost every part of the globe come the dispatches telling of human violence.

In our own country, just a few years ago, Gov. Faubus of Arkansas was being crucified because he called out the militia to prevent the bloodshed he feared at Little Rock and the cry was for obedience to the "law of the land." Yet today in Biloxi, Miss., there is bloodshed, as Negroes and whites take the law into their own hands.

Instead of nationwide evidence of indignation, there is a wave of sympathy and encouragement for these so-called "non-violent demonstrations."

The foreign offices of France and Britain, however, have thus far refrained from issuing any statements "deploring" the events at Biloxi.

IN MANY COUNTRIES, as the "big men" are welcomed on visits of friendship and good will, there is underneath a feeling of insecurity.

In France, where Gen. De Gaulle has assumed virtually dictatorial powers, 200,000 Frenchmen "demonstrated" a few days ago demanding a special meeting of Parliament. In French Algeria, there is revolution and disorder and Tunisia, supporting the rebels, masses troops on its borders to meet alleged French army violations of its territory.

The French President is nevertheless acclaimed in America as a symbol of peace and progress.

In Italy, mobs instigated by Communists seek to grab power in certain cities and towns.

In Venezuela, open revolt is threatened, as the government bans public meetings after street rioting in two of the country's largest cities.

In Cuba, a dictator is ruining his country's economy while his Communist-ridden regime conducts a violent anti-American campaign.

In the Middle East, there is friction and an uneasy peace.

In India, there is apprehension over the aggressive behavior of the Red Chinese.

In Africa, there is turbulence as the white man, outnumbered, strives to maintain economic as well as political power lest untrained and inexperienced natives take over and alienate foreign capital and retard economic development.

In South Africa, the crisis as between white and black has produced a sensation throughout the world, which knows little of the intricacies and complexities of the problem but applies pressure just the same to drive the white man from political power in huge continent of smouldering warfare.

In Tokyo, a mob of 9,000 students, shouting anti-American slogans, riots against the U.S.-Japan Security Treaty. Similar demonstrations by 200,000 persons occur throughout Japan.

In Korea, encouraged by the U.S. Department of State, fractional strife has reached a climactic point and there is today danger of military action by the Communists in North Korea who may take advantage of those disturbed political conditions in South Korea to start another war.

Conferences between the United States and its 14 allies in the Korean War have just been called to discuss the dangers of such a contingency.

WHILE THESE troubles are sweeping the so-called "free world," what's going on behind the iron curtain? Why is there no demand for free elections in the Soviet Union and in Poland and Hungary and the other captive states?

How can there be open intervention in the affairs of a sovereign nation like the Korean republic and yet no move toward free choice in elections in the various countries of the Soviet bloc?

Do freedom's leaders recognize the iron curtain boundaries as "off limits"?

Is Tibet's tragedy already forgotten? There is pressure now even from prominent churchmen in America for recognition of the Red China government—which would amount, of course, to a desertion of the anti-Communist allies of the free world in the Far East.

Where shall one look for hope that a troubled world may somehow compose its difficulties?

The germ of unrest is to be found in the grass roots of the farm and in the ugly basements of city slums in Latin America, eastern Europe and parts of western Europe.

Tens of millions of people are living in poverty in Asia and Africa. Mr. Khrushchev has been diverting attention from his own neglect of Soviet internal problems. A summit conference—the beginning of a series—is to open on May 16 at Paris, at which there is to be more and more fraternizing with the evil dictator of an oppressed nation.

World opinion still is the most potent force for good but world opinion that lazily worships, as it did in the days of czars and monarchs, the trappings of high office isn't going to accomplish much for freedom till it recognizes truth and reality once more.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

You can have your favorite springtime scene and I'll have mine —a dog loping across a street intersection with six feet of chain dragging behind him.

One building opportunity that shouldn't be overlooked and clearly hasn't been is the sale of white cardboard in Washington, D. C.—the kind suitable for making placards for pickets. The same entrepreneur could sell the sticks.

I feel more certain this year than ever before that someone, somewhere, must have found something better to spread on highways than the piecrust material that falls apart every winter in this climate and must be replaced every summer.

It should not have surprised me, but it did, to hear baseball fans in our nation's capital being as excited about their perennial losers as fans elsewhere are about potential pennant winners. I had forgotten that a real fan cheers for his heroes, not because his heroes win more games than they lose.

Having read everything I can get my eyes on about plans afoot in Detroit, I find they fit in with my personal conviction that the day of the big car for ordinary ownership and use is past and gone, along with the mansions that finally gave way to the ranch-house and the split-level dwellings now in vogue.

Someone should work on an electric eye dingus that will turn off a television set when no one is looking. This would save electricity, wear and tear and get rid of the myth that a TV set is under observation whenever it is in operation.

People who think it's tricky to schedule painters, electricians, carpenters, plumbers and landscapers should have a whirl sometime at hooking a sheep shearer and getting him to perform this once-a-year-task on schedule.

I wonder if gamblers ever make book on what happens to, say, 1,000 bulbs put out in the fall for spring blooming. Here would be a tamper-proof long-term betting proposition that should be as attractive as roulette on an honest wheel.

My favorite personal-experience story about track—I have a story for every sport—concerns the time I tried out for the half-mile run. The athletic department gave me the equipment and promised an assistant coach and stopwatch when I thought I was ready. The big day came. I did my best. But when I crossed the finish line I was all alone. The coach was walking away. "I got tired of waiting," he explained.

My belief is that education never can lose sight safely of what it means to educate—to lead out from the pupil whatever intelligence he may have. This cannot be done by any means other than a competent teacher's skill in a relationship never attained in overcrowded, mechanistic school systems.

Men's sweaters seemed to me to detract from the appearance of their wearers, and I regard sweaters as garments for sports and leisure, as far as men are concerned. For women, I confess my view is not the same.

If the lowest form of wit is the pun, the lowest form of show business must be the imitation, whereby a performer confesses he has no originality.

It should not be difficult with a moderate amount of soliciting to eat a majority of lunches and dinners at someone else's expense, and I have a hunch this may be a hidden source of saving for many people who don't really need the money.

150 At Spring Dinner

C. Of C. Told County, City Can Get Planning Grants

East Liverpool and Columbiana County can qualify for federal grants of up to 50 per cent for planning future growth and development, a crowd of 150 Chamber of Commerce members was reminded at the spring dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Country Club by Donald W. Stull, assistant director of the Ohio Department of Idustrial and Economic Development.

The fact that neither the city nor the county has sought aid is "ridiculous — unless you have more money around here than you know what to do with," Stull declared. Both the county and the city also may qualify with another federal agency for advance funds for specific kinds of projects, including interest-free loans to pay engineering costs, Stull added.

In East Liverpool, municipal officials have known of the availability of federal aid for several years and have taken it into account in their discussions of planning. But the question always has been where the city would raise its share for preparation of a master plan, which would cost anywhere from $24,000 to $37,000.

Stull asserted that the failure to apply for federal aid or work with the new Industrial and Economic Development Department is generally true of the entire region covered by the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council, which includes Columbiana, Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont Counties on the Ohio side.

Organized last November, the new agency already is working with at least 56 industries which have shown interest in locating in Ohio, Stull said.

One of the big current projects is preparation of a 700-question survey on all of the state's 150 major cities and many of its 800 smaller communities.

Civic leaders in each community are at work compiling the data, which will go into the files in Columbus to furnish "a complete and official dossier on Ohio's industrial and economic resources," he said.

In East Liverpool, the questionnaire is being completed by the Chamber's industrial development committee, which arranged last night's program.

"When an industrialist comes into Ohio wanting facts on a given site, we will have the information available officially and at our fingertips," Stull related. "As it is now, when we receive a query, we might have to run through several departments of state government and to a half dozen different communities seeking facts which most states have had readily available for a quite a few years."

Created by an act of the last State Legislature session, the agency's assignments include:

1. Industrial and economic development.
2. Promotion of the recreational, historical, agricultural and cultural advantages of Ohio.
3. Long-range water planning for the state as a whole.
4. Co-ordination of atomic energy activities and development in the state and representing the governor in matters relating to nuclear development.
5. Acting as the official state planning agency, receiving and administering federal grants for planning and other assistance.
6. Assisting a commission charged with charting future educational plans for the state and with making a recommendation by Dec. 31 on what is needed in the field of technical institutes, 2-year branch and junior colleges.
7. Co-operating with other state departments, agencies and commissions on the exchange of information among bureaus to help avoid duplication of information efforts.

Stull, a newspaperman and public relations executive in Ohio for 25 years, was introduced by Dr. Myer Alpern, co-chairman of the industrial development committee. T. Fred Edwards, president, extended the welcome. Fr. Thomas Mulhearn, assistant pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, gave the invocation.

Guests introduced included Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, Safety - Service Director Lee Copenhaver, Council President Charles N. Edwards, Councilmen Donald S. Hancock, John F. Kelly, Clinton R. Seevers, Donald E. Smith and Robert Laughlin, Mayor Kenneth Leishman of Salineville, Mayor Burton Ward of Chester and State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel.

Father Convicted In Drownings Of Two Infant Sons

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Alfred Scarberry was convicted Wednesday of first-degree murder in the Dec. 12 drownings of his two infant sons. The jury recommended mercy, making a life sentence mandatory.

Judge Thomas Mitchell of Jackson County, sitting in by assignment, said he will sentence the 41-year-old former foundry worker Monday.

Defense attorney Edgar Hale said he plans to file a motion for a new trial. Possible basis for the action will be Scarberry's alleged confession to the drownings, he said. It was admitted as evidence after a lengthy debate.

Scarberry had pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

Police said Scarberry waded into the Little Scioto River near his home in suburban Sciotoville and left the children in the icy water. The bodies of Kenneth, 2, and David Lee, 10 months, have not been recovered.

Scarberry was arrested at Portsmouth Hospital the evening of the drownings while he was trying to be admitted.

The Scarberrys have seven other children besides the two, their youngest, which were drowned. Mrs. Scarberry is expecting another child.

"Ah, Men" will be the title of the program to be presented by Mrs. Sara Stimmel Rugh, humorist, at the meeting of the Ohio View Woman's Club Monday at 8:30 p. m. in the Ohio View Lutheran Church hall.

Plans for the event were completed at the Executive Board meeting held Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. John Petchel. Mrs. Ed Stephens, president, conducted business.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. James Stahl.

2 Hancock Teachers To Attend Conference

Two Hancock County school teachers — described by their superiors as "potential leaders"— will attend a conference of the West Virginia Education Association Saturday in Charleston.

The association will attempt to find out what can be done to hold younger teachers in the state and it feels that the young teacher is the best authority on the subject.

Representing the Hancock County school system will be Charles McKinney of Chester and Mary Lou Nedro of Weirton. McKinney, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. George McKinney, 214 Lytton St., Chester, is director of the Weirton High School band that appeared in the Rose Bowl parade in Pasadena, Calif., on New Year's Day. Mrs. Nedro is an elementary instructor at Broadview School in Weirton.

Their selections were announced by Supt. Robert H. Hall.

One man and one woman from each of the state's 55 counties are to attend.

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—Death sentences were handed out Wednesday night to five Moroccan merchants for selling adulterated cooking oil that paralyzed 10,832 persons. 150 At Spring Dinner

C. Of C. Told County, City Can Get Planning Grants

East Liverpool and Columbiana County can qualify for federal grants of up to 50 per cent for planning future growth and development, a crowd of 150 Chamber of Commerce members was reminded at the spring dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Country Club by Donald W. Stull, assistant director of the Ohio Department of Idustrial and Economic Development.

The fact that neither the city nor the county has sought aid is "ridiculous — unless you have more money around here than you know what to do with," Stull declared. Both the county and the city also may qualify with another federal agency for advance funds for specific kinds of projects, including interest-free loans to pay engineering costs, Stull added.

In East Liverpool, municipal officials have known of the availability of federal aid for several years and have taken it into account in their discussions of planning. But the question always has been where the city would raise its share for preparation of a master plan, which would cost anywhere from $24,000 to $37,000.

Stull asserted that the failure to apply for federal aid or work with the new Industrial and Economic Development Department is generally true of the entire region covered by the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council, which includes Columbiana, Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont Counties on the Ohio side.

Organized last November, the new agency already is working with at least 56 industries which have shown interest in locating in Ohio, Stull said.

One of the big current projects is preparation of a 700-question survey on all of the state's 150 major cities and many of its 800 smaller communities.

Civic leaders in each community are at work compiling the data, which will go into the files in Columbus to furnish "a complete and official dossier on Ohio's industrial and economic resources," he said.

In East Liverpool, the questionnaire is being completed by the Chamber's industrial development committee, which arranged last night's program.

"When an industrialist comes into Ohio wanting facts on a given site, we will have the information available officially and at our fingertips," Stull related. "As it is now, when we receive a query, we might have to run through several departments of state government and to a half dozen different communities seeking facts which most states have had readily available for a quite a few years."

Created by an act of the last State Legislature session, the agency's assignments include:

1. Industrial and economic development.
2. Promotion of the recreational, historical, agricultural and cultural advantages of Ohio.
3. Long-range water planning for the state as a whole.
4. Co-ordination of atomic energy activities and development in the state and representing the governor in matters relating to nuclear development.
5. Acting as the official state planning agency, receiving and administering federal grants for planning and other assistance.
6. Assisting a commission charged with charting future educational plans for the state and with making a recommendation by Dec. 31 on what is needed in the field of technical institutes, 2-year branch and junior colleges.
7. Co-operating with other state departments, agencies and commissions on the exchange of information among bureaus to help avoid duplication of information efforts.

Stull, a newspaperman and public relations executive in Ohio for 25 years, was introduced by Dr. Myer Alpern, co-chairman of the industrial development committee. T. Fred Edwards, president, extended the welcome. Fr. Thomas Mulhearn, assistant pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, gave the invocation.

Guests introduced included Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, Safety - Service Director Lee Copenhaver, Council President Charles N. Edwards, Councilmen Donald S. Hancock, John F. Kelly, Clinton R. Seevers, Donald E. Smith and Robert Laughlin, Mayor Kenneth Leishman of Salineville, Mayor Burton Ward of Chester and State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel.

Father Convicted In Drownings Of Two Infant Sons

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Alfred Scarberry was convicted Wednesday of first-degree murder in the Dec. 12 drownings of his two infant sons. The jury recommended mercy, making a life sentence mandatory.

Judge Thomas Mitchell of Jackson County, sitting in by assignment, said he will sentence the 41-year-old former foundry worker Monday.

Defense attorney Edgar Hale said he plans to file a motion for a new trial. Possible basis for the action will be Scarberry's alleged confession to the drownings, he said. It was admitted as evidence after a lengthy debate.

Scarberry had pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

Police said Scarberry waded into the Little Scioto River near his home in suburban Sciotoville and left the children in the icy water. The bodies of Kenneth, 2, and David Lee, 10 months, have not been recovered.

Scarberry was arrested at Portsmouth Hospital the evening of the drownings while he was trying to be admitted.

The Scarberrys have seven other children besides the two, their youngest, which were drowned. Mrs. Scarberry is expecting another child.

Ohio View Women's Club To Meet Monday

"Ah, Men" will be the title of the program to be presented by Mrs. Sara Stimmel Rugh, humorist, at the meeting of the Ohio View Woman's Club Monday at 8:30 p. m. in the Ohio View Lutheran Church hall.

Plans for the event were completed at the Executive Board meeting held Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. John Petchel. Mrs. Ed Stephens, president, conducted business.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. James Stahl.

2 Hancock Teachers To Attend Conference

Two Hancock County school teachers — described by their superiors as "potential leaders"— will attend a conference of the West Virginia Education Association Saturday in Charleston.

The association will attempt to find out what can be done to hold younger teachers in the state and it feels that the young teacher is the best authority on the subject.

Representing the Hancock County school system will be Charles McKinney of Chester and Mary Lou Nedro of Weirton. McKinney, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. George McKinney, 214 Lytton St., Chester, is director of the Weirton High School band that appeared in the Rose Bowl parade in Pasadena, Calif., on New Year's Day. Mrs. Nedro is an elementary instructor at Broadview School in Weirton.

Their selections were announced by Supt. Robert H. Hall.

One man and one woman from each of the state's 55 counties are to attend.

Jaycees List Entertainment For Post-Prom Party May 13

The Junior Chamber of Commerce said today that initial plans have been made for the annual post-prom party to be held May 13 following the Junior - Senior Prom at the Memorial Auditorium.

The program will include a movie, lunch and refreshments, professional entertainment and dancing, according to John Duffy, project chairman.

Tickets are being sold by high school students. The cost is $3 per couple to help defray the costs. Last year over 300 attended.

Immediately following the dance, which usually ends at midnight, the couples will see a private showing of a movie at the American Theater. Jaycee members and their wives will serve as chaperones.

Following the movie, they will return to the auditorium for a lunch and refreshments.

Three professional acts from Pittsburgh, including a rock-n-roll band, have been signed for the entertainment. Dancing will then be held to juke box music.

Duffy said his committee has met with officers and members of the Student Council of the Junior Class to plan the affair. The students selected the movie they want to see and the professional acts.

The affair usually lasts until 6 or 7 Saturday morning. It is held annually in an effort to keep the students off the highways and out of night clubs following the dance.

Duffy pointed out that the event helps cut down the accident rate and gives the students an opportunity to see top professional acts at an extremely low cost.

Navy To Take 2 In Car Theft

A 17-year-old Glenmoor youth and a companion from Cleveland, both absent without leave from Great Lakes (Ill.) Naval Training station and charged with auto theft and burglary, are to be turned over to Navy authorities, according to the sheriff's office at Lisbon.

Apprehended at Warren Tuesday and turned over to Columbiana County authorities Wednesday, the two Navy recruits admitted burglarizing a home at Parkman and stealing an auto in Indiana Saturday, Chief Deputy James Miller said today.

The pair drove the car to Washington Township, where they abandoned it on the old Zeigler farm near Route 39, Miller said. He said the youths reported they sold the car's spare tire, jack, fishing equipment and wheel discs to get money for gasoline to come to the county.

The youths, in the Navy for 4 weeks, denied burglary of the Super 30 Drive-In Theater early Monday morning, although they were in the theater Sunday night, Miller said.

Wife Says Humphrey Not Interested In 'VP'

Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey, wife of the Minnesota senator seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, declared at a press conference Wednesday that her husband will not accept the vice presidency.

Mrs. Humphhrey made several stops in the Northern Panhandle yesterday while drumming up votes for her husband, who will oppose Sen. John Kennedy in the May 10 presidential primary.

Rather than accept the vice presidency, her husband will seek re-election to the Senate where he can be more useful because of his experience, she said.

She asserted the national press has stirred up more interest than necessary on the religious issue. It has been exploited to the fullest in West Virginia and should be dropped, Mrs. Humphrey declared.

Presidential primaries are beneficial in the state in which they are held and in the country as a whole because they help clarify issues, the senator's wife added.

Mrs. Humphrey was a guest of the New Cumberland Women's Democratic Club at a luncheon at noon yesteday in the New Cumberland VFW Hall. She also visited in Wellsburg, Weirton and Moundsville.

Pirates Edge Phillies, 3-2, Push Winning Streak To Six

Law Gains Third Victory Of Season

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

They're a year late, but the Pittsburgh Pirates, a bunch of battling Bucs who have made their slim pitching pay off, are riding a six-game winning streak atop the National League standings.

Last year was supposed to be the Pirates' year, after finishing second in 1958. But they lost their first five, never got higher than third and finished fourth. And that's where they were generally figured this year.

Now, with Bob Skinner driving in two runs and Vern Law winning his third without defeat in a 3-2 victory at Philadelphia Wednesday night, the Pirates have a full-game lead over idle San Francisco.

The Los Angeles Dodgers stayed within two games of first by beating the Chicago Cubs 9-4. Milwaukee held fourth, defeating Cincinnati 8-5 in the only other game scheduled in the NL.

In the American League, Detroit's Tigers lost their second in a row, 3-1 at Kansas City, but retained a half-game edge over the New York Yankees, who were beaten 5-4 by Washington. Baltimore dropped Boston 8-3. Chicago and Cleveland were not scheduled.

Skinner, one of five Bucs batting over .350, was 2-for-2. His sacrifice fly gave the Pirates a run in the third against loser Jack Meyer (0-1), and then he brought the clincher home in the fifth with a single after Dick Groat (.354) had doubled.

The Dodgers, who won Tuesday at Chicago with a four-hit job by Don Drysdale, swept the two-game series behind the four-hit pitching of Roger Craig. It was the first start and first decision for the big right-hander.

Craig had a perfect game until the sixth, when Del Rice doubled with one out and scored on Tony Taylor's single. Wally Moon was 3-for-4 and Gil Hodges drove in three runs with a homer and sacrifice fly for the Dodgers against right-hander Dick Drott (0-3).

Lew Burdette, 1-1 as a starting pitcher, added his second save in relief for the Braves, blanking the Reds on one hit for three innings after taking over for winner Carl Willey (2-0) and reliever Don McMahon. Hank Aaron, 4-for-6, hit a home run and Johnny Logan added an RBI double in a two-run fifth for Milwaukee that beat southpaw Jay Hook (1-2).

Havana Flexes Hitting Muscles In 10-5 Victory

By The Associated Press

The Havana Sugar Kings at long last have flexed their muscles in the International League and may be ready to vacate the cellar.

The Sugar Kings came up with a five-run eighth inning Wednesday night to topple the Montreal Royals 10-5 for their second victory in eight starts. They are still last, 4½ games behind league-leading Buffalo, but only a half game behind Miami, Columbus and Richmond.

Buffalo opened its home season before 13,847 Wednesday afternoon and defeated Richmond 7-2 while Rochester played before 12,911 in its home opener—also in daylight—and beat Columbus 7-3. Toronto defeated Miami 6-4.

Doubles by Felix Torres and Ray Shearer, each driving in two runs, were the big blows in Havana's eighth inning. Buffalo's Art Mahaffey won his second, limiting the Vees to six hits and fanning 11.

Home runs by Jim Frey and Du Carmel and a two-run error by Columbus shortstop Dick Barone helped the Red Wings to their victory. Toronto scored five runs in the first inning as Al Cicotte won his second.

Drake Relay Records Eyed By Thinclads

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The oldest record on the books is the least likely to be broken in the 51st running of the Drake Relays here Friday and Saturday.

Jesse Owens leaped 26 feet 1¾ inches in 1935 to set a broad jump mark that hasn't been beaten.

Jim Baird of East Texas State is favored in that event this year, but he isn't expected to better his best jump of 25 feet 3¼ inches by enough to threaten Owens' mark.

The next oldest record is the 7:31.6 two-mile relay mark set by Illinois in 1952.

It and other records will be assaulted by a field that includes three of the world's top shotputters, the nation's leading pole vaulter and many of the country's fleetest runners.

Parry O'Brien, Bill Nieder and Dave Davis have entered the AAU shot put in a match that climaxes a verbal duel between O'Brien and Nieder.

They have accused each other of dodging previous head-to-head scraps.

Nieder, ex-Kansas athlete now in the Air Force, has thrown the shot 65 feet 7 inches. O'Brien holds the accepted world record of 63-4. Davis, of San Fernando State, defeated O'Brien last week and has pitched the shot 64-10½.

Another headliner is J. D. Martin of Oklahoma, who soared 15 feet 9¾ inches in the pole vault earlier this spring. The Drake record is 15 feet ¼ inch.

Palmer's Heavy Favorite To Win In Houston Golf

HOUSTON (AP) —Arnold Palmer was a heavy favorite for today's start of the $35,000 Houston Golf Classic despite a final practice round 65 by Jay Hebert.

Palmer, with the Masters and four other 1960 titles already recorded, was a 4-1 favorite to win the second tournament here within three years.

Quoted at 6-1 were Ken Venturi, winner of the Bing Crosby Invitational, and powerful Mike Souchak the 1955 Houston winner who likes the long fairways at the 7,122-yard, par 72 Memorial Park course.

Jack Burke Jr., the defending champion and gallery favorite, and Billy Casper, National Open champion, drew 8-1 odds.

Until Tuesday, Palmer had not played a round of golf since winning the Masters nearly three weeks ago. He warmed up Tuesday with a 70 and followed Wednesday with a 72.

Hebert had a 32-33—65 Wednesday for the 36-36 layout.

Kansas City Makes It Rough On American Loop Foes

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Athletics, a gang of guys other clubs figured they could do without, may not be able to keep it up, but they've been making it tough on the big teams in the American League race.

After eight games with the defending champion Chicago White Sox, Cleveland and hot-running Detroit, the A's are tied for third at .500, just 1½ games behind the first place Tigers. They got there by beating Detroit 3-1 Wednesday night on a six-hitter by ex-Tiger Ray Herbert, a two-run single by Harry Chiti, a onetime Chicago Cub, and a home run by ex-New York Yankee Bob Cerv.

It was the second straight setback for the Tigers, who won their first five, but they stayed a half-game ahead of the Yankees, beaten 5-4 by Washington. Baltimore beat Boston 8-3 in the only other game scheduled in the AL.

In the National League, the first place Pittsburgh Pirates won their sixth straight, longest streak in either league, with a 3-2 decision at Philadelphia that put them a game ahead of idle San Francisco. Los Angeles defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-4 and Milwaukee rapped Cincinnati 8-5.

Herbert (2-0) walked just two and struck out five while putting away his second one-run game for the A's by blanking the Tigers on three hits over the last seven innings. Detroit scored on singles by Rocky Colavito, Chico Fernandez and Lou Berberet in the second. The A's, without a single product of their own farm system in the line-up, beat southpaw Hank Aguirre (0-1) in the fourth inning, when Chiti's single followed a single by Cerv and a double by Dick Williams. Cerv then homered in the eighth off reliever Bob Bruce.

Washington (5-5) tied the A's for third with a four-run eighth inning, capped by Jim Lemon's two-on homer, against loser Whitey Ford (1-1). Rookie Don Mincher also homered for the Senators.

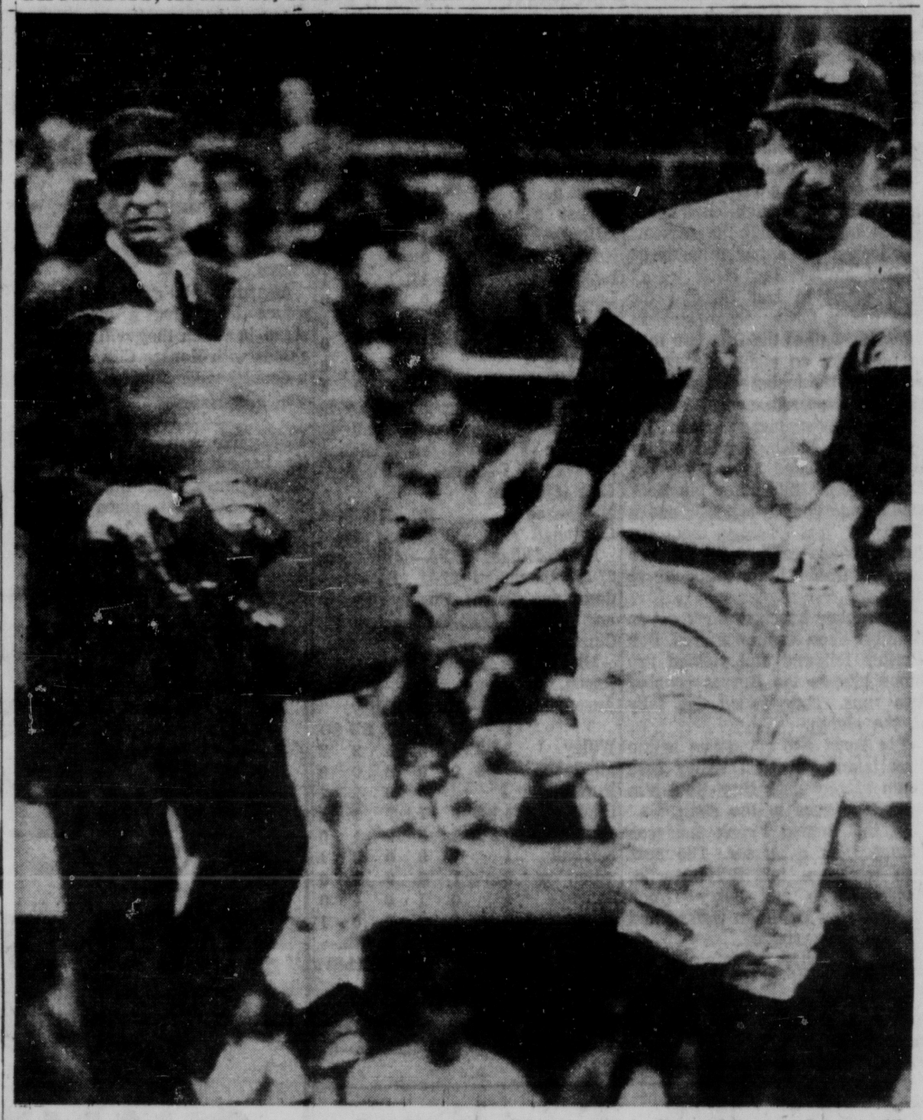

Left-handed rookie Jim Kaat gained his first major league victory with a save by Pete Ramos. Kaat allowed just three hits, one Bill Skowron's solo homer in the seventh, walked two and struck out four before being lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth. The Yanks got their other runs, all unearned, in the fourth.

Arnie Portocarrero (1-0) had a two-hit shutout for seven innings and finished with a six-hitter for the Orioles in his first 1960 start.

THOROUGHLY ANNOYED, Yank's Yogi Berra tosses his bat away in disgust after popping out with the tying and winning runs aboard in the eighth inning of the game Wednesday at New York. The umpire is Charlie Berry. Washington hurler Pedro Ramos got Berra to foul out with men on first and third in the ninth inning. The Senators won 5-4. (UPI Telephoto)

North-South Golf Muddled More By Rain

By KEN ALYTA

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—The scrambled status of the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament has been further complicated by a thunderstorm.

A much-needed rain was accompanied by a sharp thunderstorm Wednesday with the result that only three of the eight third round matches were completed before tournament officials called a halt.

Three men gained places in the quarter-finals despite the storm. Peter Green, University of North Carolina sophomore from Franklin, Mich.; Jennnings Randolph Jr., 220-pound radio and TV sportscaster from Clarksburg, W. Va., and Dr. Edward Updegraff, Tucson, Ariz., urologist, will wait until this afternoon to start their matches.

Five other contests, halted by the storm, must be completed before the quarter-finals start.

Wednesday morning's second round produced the two big upsets of this 60th North and South. Pat Foy Brady, 24, of Reidsville, N. C., whipped Walker Cupper Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., 3 and 2. Ed Kirkland of Orlando, Fla., fired par golf to surprise another Walker Cupper, Bill Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., 4 and 3.

Indianapolis Leads ABC's Open Division

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) —Thanks to a 706 of Louis Newman, the Frosch Bros. Inc., of Indianapolis, was the best scoring team in the open division of the American Bowling Congress tournament here Wednesday night.

Newman, 39, boosted his team to a 2,993 series almost singlehandedly with games of 205-237-264. He had only one open frame, a 7-10 split in the second game. His total was the second highest in team events in 54 days.

Frank Lucido of St. Louis shot the high trio last Saturday, 714.

The Town and Village Insurance team of Findlay, Ohio, gave the booster division its first major standings change since April 22, taking 10th place with 869-978-879—2,726.

Veeck's New Scoreboard Will Be Tested Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Veeck's newest plaything—a huge electronic scoreboard that has everything but a mutuel window—will explode into action for the first time tonight when the Chicago White Sox face the Cleveland Indians.

The glorified pinball machine can emit about any noise the Sox' president chooses from a remote control board.

He can sound the thundering hooves of a cavalry charge when Ted Kluszewski lumbers around the bases, or play "Flight of the Bumblebee" when Luis Aparicio steals.

How about a siren when a relief pitcher comes in? Or the sound of a creaking door when Early Wynn walks by?

Sox homers will start fireworks and electrical displays erupting from small towers atop the scoreboard, which looms behind Comiskey Park's centerfield bullpen.

It won't take much imagination to figure what Veeck will play when Cleveland pitcher Gary Bell (1-0) takes the mound. Some piercing sound undoubtedly will greet Sox hurler Bill Pierce (0-1).

When he gets tired of making noises, he can flash messages on a "Soxogram" or time pitches on a "Pitchometer."

Oh yes, the scoreboard also flashes the usual balls, strikes, errors, etc.

Although the Sox have won only 3 of their 7 starts, Veeck insists he isn't ready to press the panic button. His electronic apparatus probably has one.

Hamilton Taft Names McCollum Cage Coach

He will continue to direct the football team but will yield the baseball coaching duties to Steve Pulaski, his assistant.

McCollum, a graduate of Fairfield High School and Miami University, succeeds Darrel Hedric as basketball mentor. Hedric resigned to become freshman coach at Miami.

Bell May Reach Charmed 20-Game Circle This Year

CLEVELAND — Two superb pitching performances in a row don't necessarily guarantee a 20-victory season for a pitcher but fireballing Gary Bell of the Cleveland Indians appears to be a good bet this season to reach the charmed circle in hie third season in the majors.

Although Gary has been the most highly regarded prospect in the Tribe's pitching picture since joining the club slightly less than two years ago, never has he put together two consecutive performances to match his skillful work of this past week.

Ten hits, two runs, 21 strikeouts and seven walks in 19 1-3 innings is pitching of rare quality. This streak of Bell's is even more impressive if one considers that in his last performance of the spring training exhibition season, he throttled the Boston Red Sox with one run and six hits in eight innings.

Possessor of an excellent fast ball, Bell has been a most effective pitcher thus far this spring by coming up with fine control of his breaking pitches, threading the corners consistently with his curve ball.

Not very many pitchers become the "stoppers" of their pitching staffs at the tender age of 23 but Bell apparently will be the big man of the Tribe's mound corps by the time he reaches his 24th birthday next November 17.

As a matter of fact, he is almost the dean of the staff in point of service, only Jim Grant having been on the staff longer than Bell. And Grant's edge in tenure over Bell is less than two months.

Although Tribe scouts and minor league managers have held Bell in high regard since he was signed by Scout Bobby Goff in 1955, he never really compiled an outstanding record in his little better than three years of minor league service.

He started in organized ball with the Sherbrooke club of the Class C Provincial League in 1955 but after four straight defeats, he was demoted to Vidalia of the Class D Georgia State League where he won seven and lost five.

He jumped to Reading of the Class A. Eastern League in 1956 where he was 13-8 and had a good earned run average of 2.76 and 177 strikeouts in 204 innings. At Mobile in 1957, he was 10-7 and 178 strikeouts in 156 innings. He finished the season at San Diego where he won one and lost five.

Gary opened the 1958 season with San Diego and his six wins in eight decisions plus a 1.56 ERA gained him promotion to the Indians in late May when the Tribe's pitching department needed help.

Bell won 12 and lost ten during the remainder of the 1958 season, his most impressive victory occuring on the final day of the season when he subdued the Detroit Tigers, 6 to 2, with a nifty six-hitter that enabled the Indians to nip the Tigers for fourth place money.

Last season, Gary had 16 victories and 11 setbacks and again his best single performance of the year came against Detroit whom he blanked with four hits for a 1 to 0 decision on May 22.

Only seven pitchers in the American League won more games than Bell last season but if the handsome Texan continues to fire the ball as he has to date, no one should surpass him in total wins in 1960.

Havana Flexes Hitting Muscles In 10-5 Victory

By The Associated Press

The Havana Sugar Kings at long last have flexed their muscles in the International League and may be ready to vacate the cellar.

The Sugar Kings came up with a five-run eighth inning Wednesday night to topple the Montreal Royals 10-5 for their second victory in eight starts. They are still last, 4½ games behind league-leading Buffalo, but only a half game behind Miami, Columbus and Richmond.

Buffalo opened its home season before 13,847 Wednesday afternoon and defeated Richmond 7-2 while Rochester played before 12,911 in its home opener—also in daylight—and beat Columbus 7-3. Toronto defeated Miami 6-4.

Doubles by Felix Torres and Ray Shearer, each driving in two runs, were the big blows in Havana's eighth inning. Buffalo's Art Mahaffey won his second, limiting the Vees to six hits and fanning 11.

Home runs by Jim Frey and Du Carmel and a two-run error by Columbus shortstop Dick Barone helped the Red Wings to their victory. Toronto scored five runs in the first inning as Al Cicotte won his second.

Drake Relay Records Eyed By Thinclads

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The oldest record on the books is the least likely to be broken in the 51st running of the Drake Relays here Friday and Saturday.

Jesse Owens leaped 26 feet 1¾ inches in 1935 to set a broad jump mark that hasn't been beaten.

Jim Baird of East Texas State is favored in that event this year, but he isn't expected to better his best jump of 25 feet 3¼ inches by enough to threaten Owens' mark.

The next oldest record is the 7:31.6 two-mile relay mark set by Illinois in 1952.

It and other records will be assaulted by a field that includes three of the world's top shotputters, the nation's leading pole vaulter and many of the country's fleetest runners.

Parry O'Brien, Bill Nieder and Dave Davis have entered the AAU shot put in a match that climaxes a verbal duel between O'Brien and Nieder.

They have accused each other of dodging previous head-to-head scraps.

Nieder, ex-Kansas athlete now in the Air Force, has thrown the shot 65 feet 7 inches. O'Brien holds the accepted world record of 63-4. Davis, of San Fernando State, defeated O'Brien last week and has pitched the shot 64-10½.

Another headliner is J. D. Martin of Oklahoma, who soared 15 feet 9¾ inches in the pole vault earlier this spring. The Drake record is 15 feet ¼ inch.

Palmer's Heavy Favorite To Win In Houston Golf

HOUSTON (AP) —Arnold Palmer was a heavy favorite for today's start of the $35,000 Houston Golf Classic despite a final practice round 65 by Jay Hebert.

Palmer, with the Masters and four other 1960 titles already recorded, was a 4-1 favorite to win the second tournament here within three years.

Quoted at 6-1 were Ken Venturi, winner of the Bing Crosby Invitational, and powerful Mike Souchak the 1955 Houston winner who likes the long fairways at the 7,122-yard, par 72 Memorial Park course.

Jack Burke Jr., the defending champion and gallery favorite, and Billy Casper, National Open champion, drew 8-1 odds.

Until Tuesday, Palmer had not played a round of golf since winning the Masters nearly three weeks ago. He warmed up Tuesday with a 70 and followed Wednesday with a 72.

Hebert had a 32-33—65 Wednesday for the 36-36 layout.

Kansas City Makes It Rough On American Loop Foes

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Athletics, a gang of guys other clubs figured they could do without, may not be able to keep it up, but they've been making it tough on the big teams in the American League race.

After eight games with the defending champion Chicago White Sox, Cleveland and hot-running Detroit, the A's are tied for third at .500, just 1½ games behind the first place Tigers. They got there by beating Detroit 3-1 Wednesday night on a six-hitter by ex-Tiger Ray Herbert, a two-run single by Harry Chiti, a onetime Chicago Cub, and a home run by ex-New York Yankee Bob Cerv.

It was the second straight setback for the Tigers, who won their first five, but they stayed a half-game ahead of the Yankees, beaten 5-4 by Washington. Baltimore beat Boston 8-3 in the only other game scheduled in the AL.

In the National League, the first place Pittsburgh Pirates won their sixth straight, longest streak in either league, with a 3-2 decision at Philadelphia that put them a game ahead of idle San Francisco. Los Angeles defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-4 and Milwaukee rapped Cincinnati 8-5.

Herbert (2-0) walked just two and struck out five while putting away his second one-run game for the A's by blanking the Tigers on three hits over the last seven innings. Detroit scored on singles by Rocky Colavito, Chico Fernandez and Lou Berberet in the second. The A's, without a single product of their own farm system in the line-up, beat southpaw Hank Aguirre (0-1) in the fourth inning, when Chiti's single followed a single by Cerv and a double by Dick Williams. Cerv then homered in the eighth off reliever Bob Bruce.

Washington (5-5) tied the A's for third with a four-run eighth inning, capped by Jim Lemon's two-on homer, against loser Whitey Ford (1-1). Rookie Don Mincher also homered for the Senators.

Left-handed rookie Jim Kaat gained his first major league victory with a save by Pete Ramos. Kaat allowed just three hits, one Bill Skowron's solo homer in the seventh, walked two and struck out four before being lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth. The Yanks got their other runs, all unearned, in the fourth.

Arnie Portocarrero (1-0) had a two-hit shutout for seven innings and finished with a six-hitter for the Orioles in his first 1960 start.

THOROUGHLY ANNOYED, Yank's Yogi Berra tosses his bat away in disgust after popping out with the tying and winning runs aboard in the eighth inning of the game Wednesday at New York. The umpire is Charlie Berry. Washington hurler Pedro Ramos got Berra to foul out with men on first and third in the ninth inning. The Senators won 5-4. (UPI Telephoto)

North-South Golf Muddled More By Rain

By KEN ALYTA

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—The scrambled status of the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament has been further complicated by a thunderstorm.

A much-needed rain was accompanied by a sharp thunderstorm Wednesday with the result that only three of the eight third round matches were completed before tournament officials called a halt.

Three men gained places in the quarter-finals despite the storm. Peter Green, University of North Carolina sophomore from Franklin, Mich.; Jennnings Randolph Jr., 220-pound radio and TV sportscaster from Clarksburg, W. Va., and Dr. Edward Updegraff, Tucson, Ariz., urologist, will wait until this afternoon to start their matches.

Five other contests, halted by the storm, must be completed before the quarter-finals start.

Wednesday morning's second round produced the two big upsets of this 60th North and South. Pat Foy Brady, 24, of Reidsville, N. C., whipped Walker Cupper Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., 3 and 2. Ed Kirkland of Orlando, Fla., fired par golf to surprise another Walker Cupper, Bill Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., 4 and 3.

Indianapolis Leads ABC's Open Division

TOLEDO, Ohio. (AP) —Thanks to a 706 of Louis Newman, the Frosch Bros. Inc., of Indianapolis, was the best scoring team in the open division of the American Bowling Congress tournament here Wednesday night.

Newman, 39, boosted his team to a 2,993 series almost single-handedly with games of 205-237-264. He had only one open frame, a 7-10 split in the second game. His total was the second highest in team events in 54 days.

Frank Lucido of St. Louis shot the high trio last Saturday, 714.

The Town and Village Insurance team of Findlay, Ohio, gave the booster division its first major standings change since April 22, taking 10th place with 869-978-879—2,726.

Veeck's New Scoreboard Will Be Tested Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Veeck's newest plaything—a huge electronic scoreboard that has everything but a mutuel window—will explode into action for the first time tonight when the Chicago White Sox face the Cleveland Indians.

The glorified pinball machine can emit about any noise the Sox' president chooses from a remote control board.

He can sound the thundering hooves of a cavalry charge when Ted Kluszewski lumbers around the bases, or play "Flight of the Bumblebee" when Luis Aparicio steals.

How about a siren when a relief pitcher comes in? Or the sound of a creaking door when Early Wynn walks by?

Sox homers will start fireworks and electrical displays erupting from small towers atop the scoreboard, which looms behind Comiskey Park's centerfield bullpen.

It won't take much imagination to figure what Veeck will play when Cleveland pitcher Gary Bell (1-0) takes the mound. Some piercing sound undoubtedly will greet Sox hurler Bill Pierce (0-1).

When he gets tired of making noises, he can flash messages on a "Soxogram" or time pitches on a "Pitchometer."

Oh yes, the scoreboard also flashes the usual balls, strikes, errors, etc.

Although the Sox have won only 3 of their 7 starts, Veeck insists he isn't ready to press the panic button. His electronic apparatus probably has one.

Bell May Reach Charmed 20-Game Circle This Year

CLEVELAND — Two superb pitching performances in a row don't necessarily guarantee a 20-victory season for a pitcher but fireballing Gary Bell of the Cleveland Indians appears to be a good bet this season to reach the charmed circle in hie third season in the majors.

Although Gary has been the most highly regarded prospect in the Tribe's pitching picture since joining the club slightly less than two years ago, never has he put together two consecutive performances to match his skillful work of this past week.

Ten hits, two runs, 21 strikeouts and seven walks in 19 1-3 innings is pitching of rare quality. This streak of Bell's is even more impressive if one considers that in his last performance of the spring training exhibition season, he throttled the Boston Red Sox with one run and six hits in eight innings.

Possessor of an excellent fast ball, Bell has been a most effective pitcher thus far this spring by coming up with fine control of his breaking pitches, threading the corners consistently with his curve ball.

Not very many pitchers become the "stoppers" of their pitching staffs at the tender age of 23 but Bell apparently will be the big man of the Tribe's mound corps by the time he reaches his 24th birthday next November 17.

As a matter of fact, he is almost the dean of the staff in point of service, only Jim Grant having been on the staff longer than Bell. And Grant's edge in tenure over Bell is less than two months.

Although Tribe scouts and minor league managers have held Bell in high regard since he was signed by Scout Bobby Goff in 1955, he never really compiled an outstanding record in his little better than three years of minor league service.

He started in organized ball with the Sherbrooke club of the Class C Provincial League in 1955 but after four straight defeats, he was demoted to Vidalia of the Class D Georgia State League where he won seven and lost five.

He jumped to Reading of the Class A. Eastern League in 1956 where he was 13-8 and had a good earned run average of 2.76 and 177 strikeouts in 204 innings. At Mobile in 1957, he was 10-7 and 178 strikeouts in 156 innings. He finished the season at San Diego where he won one and lost five.

Gary opened the 1958 season with San Diego and his six wins in eight decisions plus a 1.56 ERA gained him promotion to the Indians in late May when the Tribe's pitching department needed help.

Bell won 12 and lost ten during the remainder of the 1958 season, his most impressive victory occuring on the final day of the season when he subdued the Detroit Tigers, 6 to 2, with a nifty six-hitter that enabled the Indians to nip the Tigers for fourth place money.

Last season, Gary had 16 victories and 11 setbacks and again his best single performance of the year came against Detroit whom he blanked with four hits for a 1 to 0 decision on May 22.

Only seven pitchers in the American League won more games than Bell last season but if the handsome Texan continues to fire the ball as he has to date, no one should surpass him in total wins in 1960.

NCAA Slaps Indiana With Stiffest Penalty

Hoosiers Put On Four Years Of Probation

ATLANTA (AP) — Members of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Council headed home today after slapping Indiana University with one of the stiffest penalties on record—four years probation for six recruiting violations.

"It's a terrible blow," said University President Herman B. Wells at Bloomington, Ind.

Phil Dickens, Indiana football coach, called it "a dad-burned shame. We thought we had done everything possible to avert anything like this."

The punishment means Indiana is ineligible for NCAA championship competition, cannot make postseason appearances such as bowl games and cannot appear on televised sports programs of the NCAA.

The Council, NCAA policy-making body, charged that an $800 bonus and monthly payments of $50 to $75 were offered a Virginia football player by an Indiana alumnus working with an assistant coach.

Another athlete was recruited by a telephone caller using a fictitious name who offered up to $100 as a bonus and free transportation, it was charged.

NCAA rules permit a maximum of $15 a month for incidental expenses plus tuition, room, board and books to be offered a prospective athlete.

Free vacations, clothing and cash were offered in other cases, all involving football players, the council said, and an assistant coach was charged with using an alias in at least two recruiting efforts. He was later dismissed, the Council said.

The Indiana case was the only one acted on by the Council. The members voted against looking into complaints of dirty play in the Cotton Bowl game between Texas University and Syracuse.

There was no move to lift any previous probations.

Vern Law Off To Best Start

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Deacon Vern Law is off to his best start in nine years with the Pittsburgh Pirates and a 20-game season could mean a pay raise and more money for the Mormon Church.

The 30-year-old right-hander, who as a tither of the church contributes 10 per cent of his salary for building chapels and other purposes, beat the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 Wednesday night for his third victory without a loss this year.

Law, a control pitcher who studies opposing hitters very carefully, had his best year in 1959 when he rang up an 18-9 record.

"I'd like very much to win 20 this year." He said today. "But I can't do it myself. It will have to be a team effort. And I'll have to have a little luck."

Law said the 1960 Pirates, who are one game out front in the National League and riding a six-game winning streak, are the best club he's ever played on as far as balance goes.

He also praised his teammates for what he said was the excellent support they had given him both offensively and defensively.

Miami U. Plans To Honor Brown, Ewbank, Allston

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Baseball umpires and football officials had better prepare to treat Walter Alston, Weeb Ewbank and Paul Brown with some new dignity.

Miami University President Dr. John D. Millett said the school will confer newly created honorary degrees of "doctor of athletic arts" on the three Miami graduates. The degrees will be conferred here on May 19.

Alston is manager of the baseball world champion Los Angeles Dodgers. Ewbank is coach of the pro football champion Baltimore Colts and Brown is the famous coach of the Cleveland Browns.

Dr. Millett said the three men are being recognized as teachers, organizers and administrators in professional sports.

A few years ago Miami conferred an honorary degree on Col. Earl Blaik, another graduate and former coach at Dartmouth and the U.S. Military Academy, but that was the regular doctor of laws.

Pitching Frustration Hits Reds In 8-5 Loss

CINCINNATI (AP) — Milwaukee's Hank Aaron says, "I study pitchers all the time and when I find one giving me trouble I study him extra."

Aaron made that remark before Wednesday night's game bewteen the Braves and the Cincinnati Reds and when it was over it appeared that neither Hank nor any of his teammates had to do any "extra" studying of Cincinnati pitchers.

It was another night of pitching frustration for the skidding Reds. Six hurlers appeared with varying degrees of ineffectiveness. The result was an 8-5 Milwaukee victory in which Aaron got four hits, including a home run.

The Braves combed the Reds' hurlers for 12 hits but that was only part of the sad story. Cincinnati pitchers walked nine and hit two batters and the Braves compounded the Reds' misery by stealing three bases in one inning.

It was another night for Manager Fred Hutchinson to break chairs in the clubhouse.

The question now is whether there will be enough chairs left to last out even half the season.

It looked for a few minutes as if Red starter Jay Hook wasn't even going to last through the first inning for a second straight time. He walked the first two men to face him on eight pitches but got out of the inning with only one run being scored.

The Braves nicked Hook for four in the fourth, however. They had only singles by Aaron, Del Crandall and Bill Bruton but Hook walked one and hit a batter and it was in that inning that the Braves made catcher Ed Bailey's life miserable by stealing three bases.

Milwaukee knocked Hook out in the fifth when Aaron homered. Bob Purkey followed and yielded two more hits as the Braves counted two runs. They added one tally in the eighth.

The Reds also got a run in the first inning but Carl Willey held them at bay until they Ko'd him with four runs in the sixth.

In that inning Frank Robinson homered as a starter. The next two went out but Billy Martin, Eddie Kasko and Jerry Lynch singled, Roy McMillan walked and Vada Pinson singled.

Dom McMahon, relieving, barely was bailed out of trouble when Gus Bell drove one out to right that seemed sure for extra bases. It was Aaron again, however, who hurt the Reds as he leaped against the bleacher wall and stabbed the ball.

The Reds have an open date today but the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates will be in Friday for a series.

Durbin Wins Four Events, Leetonia Trips Beavers

Beaver Local's Mike Durbin won four events but his efforts went to no avail as Leetonia came out on top, 66½-51½, Wednesday afternoon at Leetonia.

Durbin, a junior on Coach Jack O'Rourke's squad, won the 100-yard dash in 11.5, the 220 in 25 flat, then captured two field events by jumping 18 feet, 7¼ inches in the broad jump and leaping 5 feet, 4 inches in the high jump.

The meet became a battle between Durbin and Leetonia's Bob Gullett who won three events and placed third in another.

Gullett won both hurdles events with an 18 flat clocking in the 120-yard highs and 23.6 in the lows. His other first came in the pole vault at 9 feet, 1 inch. He placed third in the broad jump.

Beaver Local's other firsts came with Bontempt running the mile in 5:11 and Baker throwing the discus 106 feet, 1 inch.

For the first time, Leetonia will hold a quadrangular meet Saturday at 1 p. m. with Beaver Local, United, Jackson-Milton and Leetonia participating.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning team and to the outstanding athlete. Ribbons also will be awarded to the individual participants.

Harvey Kuenn May Play In Tonight's Tilt

CHICAGO (AP)—Walter Bond, Cleveland's rookie outfielder, will be on the bench beside Manager Joe Gordon tonight if Harvey Kuenn is able to play when the Indians meet the White Sox at Comiskey Park.

Kuenn, out of action with a pulled leg muscle since the season opener except for one pinch-hitting call, will play tonight, if it is not too cold and the field is dry. If he is in the lineup he will take over Bond's right field post and Jim Piersall will remain in center field.

Bond has failed to hit safely in his last 12 times at bat over a period of three games.

"He's pressing too much," Gordon said Wednesday. "I think a couple of days on the bench will do him some good. It'll change his perspective. . .

"I'll sit him next to me and talk to him. You'd be surprised how easy it looks from the bench. Changes your whole outlook."

Right-hander Gary Bell, who shut out Kansas City Sunday, will pitch for the Indians tonight, opposed by veteran southpaw Billy Pierce.

After tonight's game, the Indians return home for a brief home stand in which they will play four games with Kansas City, including a doubleheader Sunday. The Tribe was idle Wednesday.

Knoxville won the South Atlantic League baseball pennant by three games over Charlotte last season. Seventh - place Jacksonville was the only team to beat Knoxville in the season series, 12 games to 8.

Entry Awaits Stadium OK In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Informally, the Continental League is "in" in New York, but baseball's proposed third major league still needs formal cash support from the city for the construction of a 15-million-dollar stadium.

The okay is expected today at a regular meeting of the Board of Estimate.

The Continental League, needing New York's approval before three other cities in the eight-team set up will commit themselves to stadium construction, received support in an informal vote by members of the Board of Estimate Wednesday.

Mayor Robert Wagner said the board definitely will approve a $450,000 expenditure for an engineering study and preparation of final plans for the stadium in Flushing Meadows, site of the 1939-40 World's Fair.

Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston, Atlanta, the three cities awaiting New York approval before going ahead with their construction, and Buffalo, Denver, Toronto and Minneapolis-St. Paul are the other cities in the league, which hopes to start play next year.

Transfer Of Lakers To Los Angeles OK'd

NEW YORK (AP) —The National Basketball Assn., threatened with being beaten to the lucrative West Coast by the newly formed American League, has approved the transfer of the Minneapolis Lakers to Los Angeles.

There was only one "if" in NBA President Maurice Podoloff's announcement Wednesday. It was "providing a satisfactory schedule can be drawn." League schedule meetings will be held in New York May 9 and 16.

The NBA also plans to operate in Chicago in 1961-62, when the league will be increased to nine clubs. Chicago dropped out of the NBA after the 1950 season.

Charles Schmitter, fencing coach at Michigan State, has been a member of the American Federation of Musicians for 30 years. He plays the tuba and the string bass.

NCAA Slaps Indiana With Stiffest Penalty

Hoosiers Put On Four Years Of Probation

ATLANTA (AP) — Members of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Council headed home today after slapping Indiana University with one of the stiffest penalties on record—four years probation for six recruiting violations.

"It's a terrible blow," said University President Herman B. Wells at Bloomington, Ind.

Phil Dickens, Indiana football coach, called it "a dad-burned shame. We thought we had done everything possible to avert anything like this."

The punishment means Indiana is ineligible for NCAA championship competition, cannot make postseason appearances such as bowl games and cannot appear on televised sports programs of the NCAA.

The Council, NCAA policy-making body, charged that an $800 bonus and monthly payments of $50 to $75 were offered a Virginia football player by an Indiana alumnus working with an assistant coach.

Another athlete was recruited by a telephone caller using a fictitious name who offered up to $100 as a bonus and free transportation, it was charged.

NCAA rules permit a maximum of $15 a month for incidental expenses plus tuition, room, board and books to be offered a prospective athlete.

Free vacations, clothing and cash were offered in other cases, all involving football players, the council said, and an assistant coach was charged with using an alias in at least two recruiting efforts. He was later dismissed, the Council said.

The Indiana case was the only one acted on by the Council. The members voted against looking into complaints of dirty play in the Cotton Bowl game between Texas University and Syracuse.

There was no move to lift any previous probations.

Vern Law Off To Best Start

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Deacon Vern Law is off to his best start in nine years with the Pittsburgh Pirates and a 20-game season could mean a pay raise and more money for the Mormon Church.

The 30-year-old right-hander, who as a tither of the church contributes 10 per cent of his salary for building chapels and other purposes, beat the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 Wednesday night for his third victory without a loss this year.

Law, a control pitcher who studies opposing hitters very carefully, had his best year in 1959 when he rang up an 18-9 record.

"I'd like very much to win 20 this year." He said today. "But I can't do it myself. It will have to be a team effort. And I'll have to have a little luck."

Law said the 1960 Pirates, who are one game out front in the National League and riding a six-game winning streak, are the best club he's ever played on as far as balance goes.

He also praised his teammates for what he said was the excellent support they had given him both offensively and defensively.

Miami U. Plans To Honor Brown, Ewbank, Allston

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Baseball umpires and football officials had better prepare to treat Walter Alston, Weeb Ewbank and Paul Brown with some new dignity.

Miami University President Dr. John D. Millett said the school will confer newly created honorary degrees of "doctor of athletic arts" on the three Miami graduates. The degrees will be conferred here on May 19.

Alston is manager of the baseball world champion Los Angeles Dodgers. Ewbank is coach of the pro football champion Baltimore Colts and Brown is the famous coach of the Cleveland Browns.

Dr. Millett said the three men are being recognized as teachers, organizers and administrators in professional sports.

A few years ago Miami conferred an honorary degree on Col. Earl Blaik, another graduate and former coach at Dartmouth and the U.S. Military Academy, but that was the regular doctor of laws.

Pitching Frustration Hits Reds In 8-5 Loss

CINCINNATI (AP) — Milwaukee's Hank Aaron says, "I study pitchers all the time and when I find one giving me trouble I study him extra."

Aaron made that remark before Wednesday night's game bewteen the Braves and the Cincinnati Reds and when it was over it appeared that neither Hank nor any of his teammates had to do any "extra" studying of Cincinnati pitchers.

It was another night of pitching frustration for the skidding Reds. Six hurlers appeared with varying degrees of ineffectiveness. The result was an 8-5 Milwaukee victory in which Aaron got four hits, including a home run.

The Braves combed the Reds' hurlers for 12 hits but that was only part of the sad story. Cincinnati pitchers walked nine and hit two batters and the Braves compounded the Reds' misery by stealing three bases in one inning.

It was another night for Manager Fred Hutchinson to break chairs in the clubhouse.

The question now is whether there will be enough chairs left to last out even half the season.

It looked for a few minutes as if Red starter Jay Hook wasn't even going to last through the first inning for a second straight time. He walked the first two men to face him on eight pitches but got out of the inning with only one run being scored.

The Braves nicked Hook for four in the fourth, however. They had only singles by Aaron, Del Crandall and Bill Bruton but Hook walked one and hit a batter and it was in that inning that the Braves made catcher Ed Bailey's life miserable by stealing three bases.

Milwaukee knocked Hook out in the fifth when Aaron homered. Bob Purkey followed and yielded two more hits as the Braves counted two runs. They added one tally in the eighth.

The Reds also got a run in the first inning but Carl Willey held them at bay until they Ko'd him with four runs in the sixth.

In that inning Frank Robinson homered as a starter. The next two went out but Billy Martin, Eddie Kasko and Jerry Lynch singled, Roy McMillan walked and Vada Pinson singled.

Dom McMahon, relieving, barely was bailed out of trouble when Gus Bell drove one out to right that seemed sure for extra bases. It was Aaron again, however, who hurt the Reds as he leaped against the bleacher wall and stabbed the ball.

The Reds have an open date today but the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates will be in Friday for a series.

Durbin Wins Four Events, Leetonia Trips Beavers

Beaver Local's Mike Durbin won four events but his efforts went to no avail as Leetonia came out on top, 66½-51½, Wednesday afternoon at Leetonia.

Durbin, a junior on Coach Jack O'Rourke's squad, won the 100-yard dash in 11.5, the 220 in 25 flat, then captured two field events by jumping 18 feet, 7¼ inches in the broad jump and leaping 5 feet, 4 inches in the high jump.

The meet became a battle between Durbin and Leetonia's Bob Gullett who won three events and placed third in another.

Gullett won both hurdles events with an 18 flat clocking in the 120-yard highs and 23.6 in the lows. His other first came in the pole vault at 9 feet, 1 inch. He placed third in the broad jump.

Beaver Local's other firsts came with Bontempt running the mile in 5:11 and Baker throwing the discus 106 feet, 1 inch.

For the first time, Leetonia will hold a quadrangular meet Saturday at 1 p. m. with Beaver Local, United, Jackson-Milton and Leetonia participating.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning team and to the outstanding athlete. Ribbons also will be awarded to the individual participants.

Major League Stars

Pitching — Ray Herbert, A's, gained his second one-run game with six-hit, 3-1 victory over the Tigers, shutting them out on three singles over the last seven innings.

Hitting — Bob Skinner, Pirates, had two hits in two at-bats, driving in first and final runs with a sacrifice fly and a single in 3-2 victory over the Phillies.

Harvey Kuenn May Play In Tonight's Tilt

CHICAGO (AP)—Walter Bond, Cleveland's rookie outfielder, will be on the bench beside Manager Joe Gordon tonight if Harvey Kuenn is able to play when the Indians meet the White Sox at Comiskey Park.

Kuenn, out of action with a pulled leg muscle since the season opener except for one pinch-hitting call, will play tonight, if it is not too cold and the field is dry. If he is in the lineup he will take over Bond's right field post and Jim Piersall will remain in center field.

Bond has failed to hit safely in his last 12 times at bat over a period of three games.

"He's pressing too much," Gordon said Wednesday. "I think a couple of days on the bench will do him some good. It'll change his perspective. . .

"I'll sit him next to me and talk to him. You'd be surprised how easy it looks from the bench. Changes your whole outlook."

Right-hander Gary Bell, who shut out Kansas City Sunday, will pitch for the Indians tonight, opposed by veteran southpaw Billy Pierce.

After tonight's game, the Indians return home for a brief home stand in which they will play four games with Kansas City, including a doubleheader Sunday. The Tribe was idle Wednesday.

Knoxville won the South Atlantic League baseball pennant by three games over Charlotte last season. Seventh - place Jacksonville was the only team to beat Knoxville in the season series, 12 games to 8.

Entry Awaits Stadium OK In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Informally, the Continental League is "in" in New York, but baseball's proposed third major league still needs formal cash support from the city for the construction of a 15-million-dollar stadium.

The okay is expected today at a regular meeting of the Board of Estimate.

The Continental League, needing New York's approval before three other cities in the eight-team set up will commit themselves to stadium construction, received support in an informal vote by members of the Board of Estimate Wednesday.

Mayor Robert Wagner said the board definitely will approve a $450,000 expenditure for an engineering study and preparation of final plans for the stadium in Flushing Meadows, site of the 1939-40 World's Fair.

Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston, Atlanta, the three cities awaiting New York approval before going ahead with their construction, and Buffalo, Denver, Toronto and Minneapolis-St. Paul are the other cities in the league, which hopes to start play next year.

Report Given For Planners

James R. Woglom of Morris Knowles, Inc., reported to the Midland Planning Commission Tuesday night on progress of plans preparation for the borough's comprehensive plan for municipal development.

Woglom, assistant director of the city planning division of the Pittsburgh planning engineers, attended in place of Jack Wilson, who is no longer with the firm.

The commission has received the preliminary draft of the text of the first three sections of the final plan and the rest of the plan is expected in a month or so.

Woglom said he hopes to lay out a theme schedule for what is to be accomplished. He said the research and surveys report, the basis for the plan, has been completed and discussed.

The plan is now being made and will serve as a guide until 1975. The first three sections concern the introduction, land use and thoroughfare plan.

The remaining sections cover community facilities, urban renewal and a program to put the plan into effect.

After completion of the plan, he said recommendations will be made for revised zoning ordinances, land subdivision regulations, and a building code. He also expects to consult with the commission on ideas for a health program, either by the borough or with the county, and smoke control.

He said the commission must consider creating interest and understanding by the public and key leaders. Council should be informed of any needed action first, since it is the legislative body, and then discussed with the public, he added.

The commission discussed various aspects of the plan, including thorofares, and made recommendations to Woglom.

Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman, presided. Next meeting will be about May 30.

Report Given For Planners

James R. Woglom of Morris Knowles, Inc., reported to the Midland Planning Commission Tuesday night on progress of plans preparation for the borough's comprehensive plan for municipal development.

Woglom, assistant director of the city planning division of the Pittsburgh planning engineers, attended in place of Jack Wilson, who is no longer with the firm.

The commission has received the preliminary draft of the text of the first three sections of the final plan and the rest of the plan is expected in a month or so.

Woglom said he hopes to lay out a theme schedule for what is to be accomplished. He said the research and surveys report, the basis for the plan, has been completed and discussed.

The plan is now being made and will serve as a guide until 1975. The first three sections concern the introduction, land use and thoroughfare plan.

The remaining sections cover community facilities, urban renewal and a program to put the plan into effect.

After completion of the plan, he said recommendations will be made for revised zoning ordinances, land subdivision regulations, and a building code. He also expects to consult with the commission on ideas for a health program, either by the borough or with the county, and smoke control.

He said the commission must consider creating interest and understanding by the public and key leaders. Council should be informed of any needed action first, since it is the legislative body, and then discussed with the public, he added.

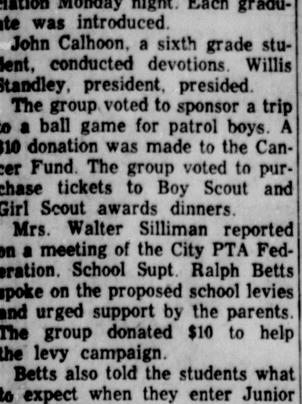

The commission discussed various aspects of the plan, including thorofares, and made recommendations to Woglom.

Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman, presided. Next meeting will be about May 30.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

How Did That Show Get On?

What the TV buyer "buys" is what the TV viewer "sees," and don't you sometimes wonder during an evening by the set, "How did that show ever get on the air?"

Marie Torre

The purchasing philosophy of Madison Avenue's all-knowing inhabitants is not always discernible to the viewer, which explains our interest in a rare statement by a major buyer of shows, an advertising agency executive, who summed up the determining factors behind his company's TV investments with:

"My whole program philosophy is based on two things — that most people live humdrum lives and look to TV for escape, and that most night-time viewing decisions are made by women.

"I HAVE developed, therefore, certain basis attitudes towards shows offered to me: I don't want shows starring women in a continuing lead role, on the order of 'The June Allyson Show.' I don't like ultra-realism or neo-realism, because a show that's too uncomfortably close to real life won't attain widespread TV success.

"I prefer shows about beautiful people in beautiful places doing glamorous things.

"We see," added the agency man, "a lot of pilots each year with truly competent leads. I mean actors like Lee J. Cobb or James Whitmore.

"It's wonderful to watch people like these work — if you enjoy theater. But the national TV consumption, I'd rather have a sexy male like Efrem Zimbalist Jr. or Rory Calhoun. If he has sex appeal, women will watch.

It's a devastating indictment of commercial television, but at least we will know next time "how that show" got on the air. Pay-TV looks better every day!

WHAT'S THIS? Milton Berle in a bowling series! An NBC plan to present "Jackpot Bowling" Monday nights at 10:30 in the fall is said to include the network hope that Berle will emcee the weekly event, dole out money to champion keglers and provide comedy relief. Berle reportedly is considering the offer.

-:-

CHARLES LAUGHTON will undertake the role of Rabbi Adam Heller in Rod Serling's "In the Presence of Mine Enemies," to be presented on "Playhouse 90" May 18.

The true story tells how Rabbi Heller and his flock lived, suffered and fought back against Nazi oppressors in the Warsaw Ghetto.

WHILE MOST TV regulars look to reduced work schedules, hardy Jack Benny goes from an alternate week schedule to a weekly show in the fall and he can't understand why it shouldn't be a lark!

"Desi and Lucy used to go on every week," says Benny. "Red Skelton does it. You can get into a groove. It's easier to build up an audience on a weekly basis. It becomes a habit. If you're on every week, you don't have to be great. They just have to like you."

Stalwart Benny also contemplates at least two seasons of weekly shows, after which he may spend his professional time doing specials, guest appearances and concert dates.

"It all depends on how I feel, says Benny. "If I weren't involved with a company, I might have done it this season."

-:-

GENEVIEVE'S looks and talents have improved tremendously since her first appearance on TV, but will her English ever get better? . . .

Hugh O'Brian of "Wyatt Earp" relayed the information: "I may not be the best gunman, or the best horseman, but I've been riding horses since I was 4, and I taught marksmanship in the Marine Corps." . . .

NBC has acquired "Dante," a mystery adventure series with Howard Duff, for the 1960-61 season. The series is an outgrowth of the Willie Dante characterization created by Dick Powell several seasons ago.

Racial Issue Threatening Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — An amendment to bar racial discrimination threatened new trouble today for backers of a billion-dollar housing bill.

The measure, which may come to a vote in the House today, is opposed by most Republicans and many Southern Democrats.

One of the opposing Republicans, Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, served notice that the racial issue would be raised. He said the proposed amendment would deny use of the bill's billion-dollar mortgage buying fund for housing in which there is discrimination on account of race.

Such an amendment would put Northern Democratic backers of the bill on the spot. To vote against it might impair their civil rights records, but to vote for it would imperil the bill.

On the first test vote Wednesday, the question whether to consider the measure at all, enough Southern Democrats left the Republican-Southern coalition to give the bill a favorable preliminary vote of 214-158. But a provision against segregation in housing would probably solidfiy Southern opposition.

The main provision of the bill is the billion-dollar fund with which the Federal National Mortgage Assn. could purchase at face value government-backed mortgages on low and moderate priced homes.

That goes considerably beyond what President Eisenhower recommended.

Wheeling Steel Profits Higher Than Year Ago

WHEELING (AP) — Wheeling Steel Corp. showed a better profit margin for the first quarter this year than for the same quarter last year, President William A. Steele told stockholders at an annual meeting here Wednesday.

Steele said earnings of $5,547,000 equaling $2.43 per common share, are compared with $4,471,000 a year ago, or $1.91 per share.

Wheeling Steel operated at 93 per cent of rated capacity the first quarter this year, he continued, compared with 85.8 per cent the first quarter last year.

For the rest of 1960, Steele foresaw production at an 85 per cent rate the second quarter, dropping to 80 per cent the rest of the year. The company's rated capacity is 2.4 million net tons annually.

Three new directors were elected for three-year terms:

C. Sterling Bunnell of New York, a senior vice-president of The First National City Bank of New York.

Walter A. Marting of Cleveland, an officer and director of both the M. A. Hanna Co. and Hanna Mining Co.

Arthur M. Scott of Wheeling, board chairman of Scott Lumber Co.

Trouble Spots Remain

Some Oil Officials Happy Over Rest-Of-'60 Outlook

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The oil industry is beginning to see its way out of some of the troubles that led its shares to becoming a favorite target of the stock market bears.

Some oil officials are quite cheerful today about the outlook for the rest of the year. Their reports on first quarter profits are better than many bears had expected.

But many of the trouble spots still remain. The cheerfulness comes from a new look at them. The troubles aren't catching them unawares any more. And some companies are learning how to deal with them.

The troubles are capacity to produce far beyond present demands, heavy and rising refinery costs that bump up against price resistance, and imports that are too big to please most domestic producers but too small to please coastal refiners that depend upon them.

The brighter spots are moves that brought surplus supplies under better control; rising demand, especially abroad; North African oil discoveries that makes some companies independent of potential or actual controls over the once all-important Suez Canal; and rising profits for half of the oil companies in spite of all the troubles.

The three largest of the companies to report earnings for the first three month of the year show them ahead of the 1959 first quarter. This helped pull ahead the industry as a whole, although of the 24 companies reporting so far, exactly half show trailing profits.

Combined, the 24 companies made $325,091,000 after taxes, a gain of 8.2 per cent over the $300,327,000 the same two dozen made in the first three months of 1959.

Predictions for the rest of the year are even brighter.

Texaco's chairman, August C. Long, notes that high gasoline stocks have had a depressing effect on prices. But he feels that rising demand will help solve the problem.

He sees consumption in the United States running three per cent ahead of last year, now that cars are out on the road again after the rough winter months.

The industry should do even better abroad, he feels. He sees demand in the rest of the non-Communist world topping last year's by 8 per cent.

At home the oil industry has been in hot competition with natural gas in the home heating field. But March's blustering weather helped many companies cut their stocks of fuel oils.

Now the gasoline sales picture is brighter. Not only is the weather better, but travel agencies are predicting the biggest vacation business yet, with more motorists on the road and travelling further.

Plans Fire Inspection

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A three-month, house-to-house fire inspection will begin here May 16 in an effort to reduce residential fires by at least 40 per cent, Fire Chief Willard Compton announced. Jay Stevens, fire prevention director for the International Fire Chiefs Assn., said 10,000 cities would follow Springfield's example.

DeGaulle Gets Big Welcome On West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—France and the United States stand together in wanting all peoples to determine their own destiny, Gen. Charles de Gaulle declared Wednesday night.

This goal of the common ideals of the two nations amounts to political realism in the modern world, said the visiting President of France in his address to a glittering banquet audience of 4,000 in civic auditorium.

The dinner capped a day started with a parade and welcome called the greatest San Francisco ever has given a foreign chief of state.

De Gaulle winds up his first journey to California today with a tour of a major electronics laboratory, the new Palo Alto Hospital and Stanford Medical Center in Palo Alto, then departs by jet transport for New Orleans.

De Gaulle, tall and austere leader of France in crisis, showed frank emotion. He stood two hours in the parade's slow progress through crowds that surged closely around his open car in the Montgomery St. financial district.

Police Chief Tom Cahill estimated the sidewalk throngs along the route at 250,000. He said it was the greatest crowd he had seen in San Francisco in his 30-year career.

Marine Recruits Given Delay Plan

Marine Sgt. Robert J. Barnes, local recruiter, announced today area high school seniors can enlist in the Marine Corps under the 120-day delay program.

He said anyone signing now can select the date they will leave for active duty within 120 days. This gives the student an opportunity to complete high school and graduate and enjoy a vacation before entering the service.

Sgt. Barnes pointed out that anyone interested may take countless free courses offered through the Marine Corps Institute or through the Armed Forces Institute which charges a nominal registration fee.

Congress in many cases pays up to 75 per cent of the tuition for Marine students who attend evening courses at colleges or universities.

Another advantage to joining is the chance to learn a trade at a military school or on-the-job.

Sgt. Barnes is at the City Hall. The office is open on Tuesday and Fridays. The phone number is FU. 6-6181.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

How Did That Show Get On?

What the TV buyer "buys" is what the TV viewer "sees," and don't you sometimes wonder during an evening by the set, "How did that show ever get on the air?".

Marie Torre

The purchasing philosophy of Madison Avenue's all-knowing inhabitants is not always discernible to the viewer, which explains our interest in a rare statement by a major buyer of shows, an advertising agency executive, who summed up the determining factors behind his company's TV investments with:

"My whole program philosophy is based on two things — that most people live humdrum lives and look to TV for escape, and that most night-time viewing decisions are made by women.

"I HAVE developed, therefore, certain basis attitudes towards shows offered to me: I don't want shows starring women in a continuing lead role, on the order of 'The June Allyson Show.' I don't like ultra-realism or neo-realism, because a show that's too uncomfortably close to real life won't attain widespread TV success.

"I prefer shows about beautiful people in beautiful places doing glamorous things.

"We see," added the agency man, "a lot of pilots each year with truly competent leads. I mean actors like Lee J. Cobb or James Whitmore.

"It's wonderful to watch people like these work — if you enjoy theater. But the national TV consumption, I'd rather have a sexy male like Efrem Zimbalist Jr. or Rory Calhoun. If he has sex appeal, women will watch.

It's a devastating indictment of commercial television, but at least we will know next time "how that show" got on the air. Pay-TV looks better every day!

WHAT'S THIS? Milton Berle in a bowling series! An NBC plan to present "Jackpot Bowling" Monday nights at 10:30 in the fall is said to include the network hope that Berle will emcee the weekly event, dole out money to champion keglers and provide comedy relief. Berle reportedly is considering the offer.

-:-

CHARLES LAUGHTON will undertake the role of Rabbi Adam Heller in Rod Serling's "In the Presence of Mine Enemies," to be presented on "Playhouse 90" May 19.

The true story tells how Rabbi Heller and his flock lived, suffered and fought back against Nazi oppressors in the Warsaw Ghetto.

WHILE MOST TV regulars look to reduced work schedules, hardy Jack Benny goes from an alternate week schedule to a weekly show in the fall and he can't understand why it shouldn't be a lark!

"Desi and Lucy used to go on every week," says Benny. "Red Skelton does it. You can get into a groove. It's easier to build up an audience on a weekly basis. It becomes a habit. If you're on every week, you don't have to be great. They just have to like you."

Stalwart Benny also contemplates at least two seasons of weekly shows, after which he may spend his professional time doing specials, guest appearances and concert dates.

"It all depends on how I feel, says Benny. "If I weren't involved with a company, I might have done it this season."

GENEVIEVE'S looks and talents have improved tremendously since her first appearance on TV, but will her English ever get better? . . .

Hugh O'Brian of "Wyatt Earp" relayed the information: "I may not be the best gunman, or the best horseman, but I've been riding horses since I was 4, and I taught marksmanship in the Marine Corps." . . .

NBC has acquired "Dante," a mystery adventure series with Howard Duff, for the 1960-61 season. The series is an outgrowth of the Willie Dante characterization created by Dick Powell several seasons ago.

Racial Issue Threatening Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — An amendment to bar racial discrimination threatened new trouble today for backers of a billion-dollar housing bill.

The measure, which may come to a vote in the House today, is opposed by most Republicans and many Southern Democrats.

One of the opposing Republicans, Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, served notice that the racial issue would be raised. He said the proposed amendment would deny use of the bill's billion-dollar mortgage buying fund for housing in which there is discrimination on account of race.

Such an amendment would put Northern Democratic backers of the bill on the spot. To vote against it might impair their civil rights records, but to vote for it would imperil the bill.

On the first test vote Wednesday, the question whether to consider the measure at all, enough Southern Democrats left the Republican-Southern coalition to give the bill a favorable preliminary vote of 214-158. But a provision against segregation in housing would probably solidfiy Southern opposition.

The main provision of the bill is the billion-dollar fund with which the Federal National Mortgage Assn. could purchase at face value government-backed mortgages on low and moderate priced homes.

That goes considerably beyond what President Eisenhower recommended.

Wheeling Steel Profits Higher Than Year Ago

WHEELING (AP) — Wheeling Steel Corp. showed a better profit margin for the first quarter this year than for the same quarter last year, President William A. Steele told stockholders at an annual meeting here Wednesday.

Steele said earnings of $5,547,000 equaling $2.43 per common share, are compared with $4,471,000 a year ago, or $1.91 per share.

Wheeling Steel operated at 93 per cent of rated capacity the first quarter this year, he continued, compared with 85.8 per cent the first quarter last year.

For the rest of 1960, Steele foresaw production at an 85 per cent rate the second quarter, dropping to 80 per cent the rest of the year. The company's rated capacity is 2.4 million net tons annually.

Three new directors were elected for three-year terms:

C. Sterling Bunnell of New York, a senior vice-president of The First National City Bank of New York.

Walter A. Marting of Cleveland, an officer and director of both the M. A. Hanna Co. and Hanna Mining Co.

Arthur M. Scott of Wheeling, board chairman of Scott Lumber Co.

Trouble Spots Remain

Some Oil Officials Happy Over Rest-Of-'60 Outlook

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The oil industry is beginning to see its way out of some of the troubles that led its shares to becoming a favorite target of the stock market bears.

Some oil officials are quite cheerful today about the outlook for the rest of the year. Their reports on first quarter profits are better than many bears had expected.

But many of the trouble spots still remain. The cheerfulness comes from a new look at them. The troubles aren't catching them unawares any more. And some companies are learning how to deal with them.

The troubles are capacity to produce far beyond present demands, heavy and rising refinery costs that bump up against price resistance, and imports that are too big to please most domestic producers but too small to please coastal refiners that depend upon them.

The brighter spots are moves that brought surplus supplies under better control; rising demand, especially abroad; North African oil discoveries that makes some companies independent of potential or actual controls over the once all-important Suez Canal; and rising profits for half of the oil companies in spite of all the troubles.

The three largest of the companies to report earnings for the first three month of the year show them ahead of the 1959 first quarter. This helped pull ahead the industry as a whole, although of the 24 companies reporting so far, exactly half show trailing profits.

Combined, the 24 companies made $328,091,000 after taxes, a gain of 8.2 per cent over the $300,327,000 the same two dozen made in the first three months of 1959.

Predictions for the rest of the year are even brighter.

Texaco's chairman, August C. Long, notes that high gasoline stocks have had a depressing effect on prices. But he feels that rising demand will help solve the problem.

He sees consumption in the United States running three per cent ahead of last year, now that cars are out on the road again after the rough winter months.

The industry should do even better abroad, he feels. He sees demand in the rest of the non-Communist world topping last year's by 8 per cent.

At home the oil industry has been in hot competition with natural gas in the home heating field. But March's blustering weather helped many companies cut their stocks of fuel oils.

Now the gasoline sales picture is brighter. Not only is the weather better, but travel agencies are predicting the biggest vacation business yet, with more motorists on the road and travelling further.

Plans Fire Inspection

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A three-month, house-to-house fire inspection will begin here May 16 in an effort to reduce residential fires by at least 40 per cent, Fire Chief Willard Compton announced. Jay Stevens, fire prevention director for the International Fire Chiefs Assn., said 10,000 cities would follow Springfield's example.

DeGaulle Gets Big Welcome On West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—France and the United States stand together in wanting all peoples to determine their own destiny, Gen. Charles de Gaulle declared Wednesday night.

This goal of the common ideals of the two nations amounts to political realism in the modern world, said the visiting President of France in his address to a glittering banquet audience of 4,000 in civic auditorium.

De Gaulle winds up his first journey to California today with a tour of a major electronics laboratory, the new Palo Alto Hospital and Stanford Medical Center in Palo Alto, then departs by jet transport for New Orleans.

De Gaulle, tall and austere leader of France in crisis, showed frank emotion. He stood two hours in the parade's slow progress through crowds that surged closely around his open car in the Montgomery St. financial district.

Police Chief Tom Cahill estimated the sidewalk throngs along the route at 250,000. He said it was the greatest crowd he had seen in San Francisco in his 30-year career.

Rented Apartment To Negroes

KKK Pickets Rich Man's Mansion In Racial Dispute

By The Associated Press

Ku Klux Klansmen picketed the mansion of a wealthy Georgia real estate man who rented an apartment in a white Macon neighborhood to a Negro family.

The real estate man, Chester Burge, marched out of his home Wednesday night with a pistol, but police sent him back with a threat to arrest him for carrying a weapon.

Georgia KKK Grand Dragon Lee Davidson said the demonstration was aimed at persuading Burge to move the Negroes out of the two-unit apartment where they live alone in a poorer section of the city.

In Austin, Tex., sit-down demonstrations were expected today after white and Negro students set up a mile-long picket line in a seven-block area Wednesday. The picketing followed failure of an attempt to end lunch counter segregation by negotiation.

At Tuskegee, Ala., a Negro leader sought to allay fears of white politicians that they might lose control in Macon County, where Negroes outnumber white residents 6-1.

"The idea that our people want to take over the government is simply not true," said Charles G. Gomillion, president of the Tuskegee Civic Assn. and faculty member of Negro Tuskegee Institute.

At another Negro school, Southern University in Baton Rouge, La., 16 Negro students charged with disturbing the peace in recent sit-in demonstrations will seek to have the charges dismissed at a hearing Friday. They contend they were denied rights guaranteed by the 14th Amendment.

Attorneys for five Little Rock Negroes indicated they will appeal the maximum sentences they drew for participating in a sit-down demonstration. The five, all Philander Smith College students were fined $500 each and given 60-day sentences by Circuit Judge William J. Kirby. The judge doubled the original 30-day jail sentences and $250 fines after hearing the case on appeal from Municipal Judge Quinn Glover's court.

The Mississippi Senate, reacting to last weekend's Biloxi riots, voted for a bill making breach of the peace a penalty punishable by a 10-year prison term if anyone is killed or injured in a resulting riot.

PIE-EATERS. These newsboys turned pie-eaters Wednesday night during a party at The Review as a reward for signing up five new orders in the magazine and newspaper subscription contest now under way. Twenty boys attended, with the three winners in the pie-eating event having the privilege of throwing pies at the faces of the two district managers of the Circulation Department—Joe Burcham and Bill Garren. The carriers also will receive points toward the trip to Detroit which will climax the campaign. The subscription contest will close May 7.

Pinch Test Spots Waist Trouble

Oh to be willowy-waisted and svelte now that spring is here. The term waistline is vaguely misleading, for there is no definite line there, or even a cinching - in band of muscle to prevent waist from wandering.

By Ida Jean Kain

Then how can one keep a clearly defined waist measurement? By maintainning proper tone in the bias muscles that span up from the side - front abdominals. The oblique muscles which cover the side and front of the abdomen, curve around the waist at the sides and insert sawtooth fashion into the lower ribs.

To get the picture, span the waist at the side-front with forefingers and thumbs...forefingers pointing toward the middle. Now press down-and-in. That's where the spread begins. When these muscles get soft the waist wanders.

BEFORE EASING into tone-ups, take one more test. Betwixt thumbs and forefingers, pick up the fat that pads the waist at either side.

If you can pick up more than three-quarters of an inch on either side, or an inch at the very most, that is proof positive of excess poundage. The remedy is to stop eating to belt-bulging proportions. Tighten your belt a notch at the beginning of the meal.

Now the exercises. But first limber up. Arch your arms overhead, ballerina fashion, then stretching upwards, g-r-o-w an inch taller through the midsection. Ere long you'll be an inch slimmer and feel ever so supple. From this position, pulled slim, bend smoothly to the right and hold for a word count of four... slim, smooth, supple, svelte. Back to center, pull slim and bend to the opposite side and hold.

The following exercises are guaranteed to restore tone to the oblique muscles.

Position: Lie on back, with knees flexed, soles of feet on floor. Place palm of right hand on back of left hand and both resting on left thighline.

Movement: Lift right shoulder off floor and bending forward slide hands toward knee. Hold. Do not hold your breath. Return shoulder to floor. Lift left shoulder off floor as you slide hands toward right knee....again hold. Repeat ten times.

Relax. Now from this same position but with arms down at sides, lift hips an inch off floor. Swing hips slightly toward righ side and pull in snugly with side-front obliques and hold.

BACK TO CENTER, swing hips slightly toward left and again pull up-and-in strongly and hold. This exercise even feels slimming. Repeat 6 to 12 times...twice daily.

Finish routine with the beginning stretch and side-bend suppler. Then bend forward at the waist, knees sagging and bob up and down. This routine is a better spring tonic than sulphur and molasses.

Political Pot Starts Boiling

The tempo of political activity in Chester has quickened in preparation for the West Virginia primary May 10 and the municipal election June 5.

Lawrence Cline, city Republican chairman, announced the GOP committee has rented the first floor of the Harmon Building of Carolina Ave. and Dunn St. as a permanent headquarters until November.

Cline said the quarters will be ready for a meeting of the party Monday night at 7:30.

A number of Hancock County candidates are expected at a meeting at the Democratic headquarters at the Carolina Ave. storeroom formerly occupied by the A. & P. Store tonight at 7:30.

Lunch will be served, according to John Olash, councilman and chairman of the group.

Mrs. Alvin Clutter of River Ave. and Mrs. John Olash of Phoenix Ave. attended a luncheon held at New Cumberland Wednesday, honoring Mrs. Hubert Humphrey, wife of the Minnesota senator seeking the state's presidential primary nomination.

Requests Road Study

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Ohio officials have been asked to study possible extension of a southern Ohio highway across the Ohio River to tie in with the Ashland Beltline and other highways, the speaker of the Kentucky House said Wednesday night. Rep. Harry King Lowman (D-Boyd) said the project would be a joint effort between Kentucky and Ohio.

About half of the 10 million Americans between the ages of 45 and 54 are employed.

Countywide Conference Set For Study Of Aged Problems

Plans for a countywide conference on aging May 25 at a site in Lisbon were outlined at a meeting of the steering committee Wednesday afternoon at the Hotel Wick at Lisbon.

Cornell Monda, Lisbon school psychologist, was named chairman of the committee to plan the luncheon session in line with a study on problems of old age to be submitted to an Ohio Commission of Gov. Michael DiSalle and to a nationwide White House Conference on Aging.

Plans call for a panel discussion and development of a set of findings and recommendations to be presented to the state and national groups, according to Mrs. J. Donald Thompson of East Liverpool, chairman of the county unit. Albert Hanna of Salem is co-chairman.

Named to the planning committee were Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library; Miss Nell Robinson, supervisor at City Hospital; Dr. Paul Beaver of Leetonia and Harold Graham of Salem.

Site for the county meeting will be announced later, Mrs. Thompson said. Researchers will discuss phases of the aging problem, including housing, financial aid, health, recreation and medical care.

About 20 attended yesterday's meeting, including Mrs. Robert Hayes, Mrs. Lilyan Alpern, Paul Blair and Maj. and Mrs. William Hathorn of the Salvation Army, all of East Liverpool.

Suicide Seen In Deaths Of 2 At Marietta

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Two Pennsylvania youths found dead in a car north of Marietta Wednesday apparently committed suicide, Washington County Coroner Deane H. Northrup ruled.

The two boys were James Roan Neubling, 22, and Donald Carlisle Munrow, 18, both of Harrisburg, Pa. A garden hose was run from the car's exhaust to the interior of the automobile and they died by carbon monoxide poisoning, the coroner said.

A scrawled note found in the auto read:

"This is being written in the dark. Please tell Mary to forgive and forget."

Officials could not immediately identify "Mary."

The car was found on a dirt road leading into an oil field. It had been there at least 24 hours, sheriff's officials said. It bore Pennsylvania license plates issued to Carl D. Neubling of Rt. 3, Mechanicsburg, Pa., young Neubling's father.

Sheriff's officials, who talked with Neubling's mother, said the two boys told their families Monday they wanted to take a trip for a few days, and the elder Neubling lent them his car.

In the back seat of the car was a money bag from a Canton, N. Y., bank, along with a number of one dollar bills scattered on the floor among school papers and textbooks.

In Canton, Vice President Gus Hedlund of the St. Lawrence County National Bank said he knew of no money missing.

Hancock Farms Set Out Produce

Over 100,000 cabbage plants have been set on Hancock County farms and much of the early sweet corn and potatoes has been planted during the past two weeks of warm, spring weather.

But commercial gardners are not the only ones that have been busy. Farmers have been spreading lime and seeding oats and alfalfa, Oliver Johnson, County agricultural agent, reports.

"Orchardmen have applied the pre-pink spray for apple scab and the attack has begun on tent caterpillars in the county," the agricultural agent reports.

"The spray of 2 tablespoons of 50 per cent DDT per gallon of water is cleaning the tent caterpillars up fast," he added.

Homeowners treating lawns for control of Japanese bettle grubs also will destroy other soil insect pests such as ants, wireworms and others if the treatment is properly applied, he said.

Johnson recommends one of three materials for lawn treatment — Chlordane, Dieldrin or Heptachlor. He also recommends applying one portion of DDT spray on all needles of Scotch pine to kill pine shoot and tip moths.

2 Georgia Men Killed In Ohio Traffic Mishaps

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two Georgia men, riding in separate cars were killed early today when both autos—traveling side by side—went out of control at a curve and ran off new U.S. 40 north of here.

The dead are James C. Cambron, 42, of Atlanta, and Wilton E. Richardson, 31, of Bowdon, Ga., according to the Highway Patrol.

Two persons were injured. Critically hurt was Leroy Hefner, 31, of Louisville, Ky. Delores Knoles, 20, of Dayton, was in satisfactory condition with lesser injuries.

The patrol said its investigation showed that Hefner was driving one car, with Cameron his passenger, while Richardson and the Knoles girl were in the other.

Apparently moving at very high speed, the patrol said, the eastbound autos made no contact with each other but both left the highway at the curve and cracked up.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What is a quick and easy way of mixing leftover paint?

A. Try dropping a couple of marbles or ball bearings into the can before sealing. The objects eventually will become embedded in the thickening paint in the bottom of the can. Then, when the sealed can is shaken vigorously, the marbles or bearings will not rattle until the thickened paint has begun to mix with the oil. As soon as the objects rattle freely, you will know that the paint is well mixed.

Q. How can I repair some bare spots on the back of a mirror?

A. You can often make a successful job of this simply by covering the bare spots with aluminum foil, securing this to the glass with shellac or glue.

Q. How can I recondition some shredded coconut that has become hard and tough?

A. Try heating it over some hot water.

Suicide Seen In Deaths Of 2 At Marietta

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Two Pennsylvania youths found dead in a car north of Marietta Wednesday apparently committed suicide, Washington County Coroner Deane H. Northrup ruled.

The two boys were James Roan Neubling, 22, and Donald Carlisle Munrow, 18, both of Harrisburg, Pa. A garden hose was run from the car's exhaust to the interior of the automobile and they died by carbon monoxide poisoning, the coroner said.

A scrawled note found in the auto read:

"This is being written in the dark. Please tell Mary to forgive and forget."

Officials could not immediately identify "Mary."

The car was found on a dirt road leading into an oil field. It had been there at least 24 hours, sheriff's officials said. It bore Pennsylvania license plates issued to Carl D. Neubling of Rt. 3, Mechanicsburg, Pa., young Neubling's father.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Should Have Responsibilities

We parents incline not to let the child take responsibility when he would like to do so. When the baby begins to try to help dress or undress himself, we may be too much in haste to let him. We can do it faster and better. So, also, when he wants to wash his own hands or bathe himself in the tub, we tend to discourage him. We do many things for him long past the time when he could do them for himself. Even if he falls and gets a bump we grab him up, when he easily could get up himself. We make many choices and decisions for him that he could make as well or better for himself. We incline to rob the growing child of taking responsibility for his self-care. The child, at 2, 8 or 14, has a strong urge to prove to himself and others that he is growing up. He is eager to do many things which only older persons generally do.

By Garry Meyer.

AND WHEN we let him do these things, we often are amazed at how well he can do them — watering plants at home or school when he is 5 or 6; rearranging furniture in his room or helping choose materials and colors for its redecoration when he is not much older; planning, preparing and serving a meal for the family at 10 or 12.

At school we see some children bearing all sorts of responsibilities —welcoming guests, planning or being chairman on assembly programs, serving on the student council.

In all such home or school activities, one may see good practice by the child in carrying out responsibility.

In all of these activities there's his awareness that he is doing something pretty big; that others in his group, and adults looking on, think it's pretty big. There's considerable glamour about it. He may need little or no outside urging to do these things well.

BUT THE CHILD who pulls the curtain back of the scene at an assembly program may not feel quite as important as he would if he were the chairman of the program. The child, 6, who for a week must clear the table after the evening meal, will hardly feel as important as if he had baked the cake for that meal. Yet the curtain-puller and the table-clearer had very responsible positions.

As each faithfully did his job well, he was exercising more self-drive than either the program chairman or the cake-baker. Nor can we be sure that either the program chairman or the cake-baker, if faced with less glamorous responsibilities, would handle them faithfully.

Let us go on giving the child responsibility for doing what he would like to do. But let us not kid ourselves that only in this direction will he learn to be a highly responsible person.

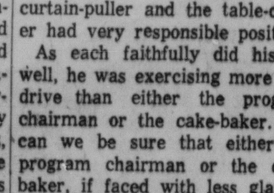

My bulletins, "Self-Reliance" and "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

As Demonstrations Spread

Collins, Truman At Odds On Counter Sitdown Issue

By PERRY MULLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LeRoy Collins is Democratic governor of the state of Florida, whose white citizens are heirs to a long tradition of racial segregation. He might be expected to deplore the current rash of lunch counter sit-downs by Southern Negro college students.

But when his state capital, Tallahassee, was hit by student demonstrations against segregation of department store luncheon facilities, Collins said:

"If a man has a department store and he invites the public generally to come into his store and trade. I think then it is unfair and morally wrong for him to single out one department and say he does not want or will now allow Negroes to patronize that one department."

Harry S. Truman is the former Democratic president of the United States from the border state of Missouri. He championed strong civil rights legislation while in office. He might be expected to support the lunch counter demonstrators.

But Truman declared: "If anyone came into my store and tried to stop business I'd throw him out. The Negro should behave himself and show he's a good citizen. Common sense and good will can solve this whole thing."

Thus it was Truman who surprised and pleased the segregationists, Collins who lent a measure of comfort to the integrationist as a new racial debate stirred the country.

The demonstrations started Feb. 1 in Greensboro, N.C., when four Negro college students staged the first lunch counter sit-down at a segregated Southern eating place. They spread to many cities of the South, with sympathy picketing of branch stores in the North.

Church representatives were drawn into the widening debate.

Gov. Collins' own Episcopal pastor in Tallahassee, the Rev. Jeffrey Alfriend, differs with the governor.

He said: "I am very tired of hearing it said, 'This is a matter of Christian conscience.' With me, it certainly is not. It is a matter of biological expediency and ordinary common sense.

"And finally, I question the motives or the intelligence or good judgment of any who encourage demonstrations which obviously will lead to increased racial tension and probably violence."

J. Dean Fleming, secretary of the Baptist laymen of Alabama, declared: "The objection to close association between white persons and Negroes stems from the lack of a moral standard on the part of the Negro and the belief that close association will bring intermarriage.

"The agitators are always referring to what other countries will think of the United States. We are not a bit interested in what they think of us."

To which, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, replied: "Close association hasn't brought about intermarriage in the North. Why do Southerners get so excited when the Negro wants to eat a hamburger at a lunch counter? What they are saying is that if we give the Negro equal rights under the Constitution, then white girls are going to marry them. That's an insult to white women."

Congressmen, of course, have gotten into the debate, along predictable geographic lines.

The Constitution is likely to loom large as, increasingly, the NAACP's fight against segregated Southern lunch counters centers on the courts. More than 1,000 Negro student demonstrators have been arrested on a variety of charges.

The NAACP is prepared to argue in their appeals that use of public force against the demonstrators constitutes discrimination in violation of the 14th Amendment.

Meanwhile, what do the young Negro demonstrators hope for?

One of them, Clement Carney, 21, jailed in Tallahassee, replied: "Desegregation of restaurants, theaters, bus stations and all other public places. And even the jails if we have to go back. White prisoners in the segregated section across the hall showed less discrimination towards us than people on the outside."

What do white Southerners intend to do to thwart these ambitions?

The Tallahassee City Commission has warned it will tolerate no more demonstrations. The argument has become an issue in the Florida gubernatorial campaign.

Alabama has threatened to cut off state funds to Negro schools that harbor demonstrators.

Several Southern cities are following President Eisenhower's suggestion and setting up bi-racial groups to work for smoother race relations.

General Conference Opens

Racial Dispute Threatens To Split Methodist Church

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A racially partitioned church structure, which enabled Northern and Southern Methodists to unite 20 years ago, today loomed as a possible wedge that could drive them apart again.

This was the crucial issue faced by the nation's largest Protestant denomination, as the quadrennial Methodist General Conference went into its first session on the matter.

On the eve of the test, bishops of the church said Wednesday night that the outcome will have a greater effect than any other conference decision on the present and future strength of Methodism "in America and beyond."

Up for consideration was a complex, explosive report on racial policy, drawn up by a 70-member commission in a four-year, $200,000 study that involved public hearings in 24 cities across the country.

It recommends continuance of a separate administrative jurisdiction for Negroes, arguing that this gives them the strongest voice in top echelons of the church. But the system is keenly opposed by some Northerners as a "symbol of segregation."

On the other hand, the report also proposed linking jurisdictional affairs, both white and Negro, more closely with the overall church government. This feature is strongly protested by some Southerners as an invasion of regional autonomy.

The 74 bishops, in their keynote episcopal address, commended the "general method and spirit" of the report, and said no course "will be acceptable that disregards the rights of any major segment of the church."

But they also reminded the 800 voting delegates of the church's official stand against any "racial discrimination or enforced segregation."

Jobless Not Dropping Though

BUC Describes Ohio Job Picture 'Relatively High'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation describes Ohio's labor market picture thus: "Employment is relatively high. But unemployment hasn't dropped off as rapidly as usual."

The bureau, reviewing the labor market situation during April, said "Over-all non-farm employment has remained fairly steady in recent months at 3.1 million. March 1960, however, was two per cent above March 1959. Steel, fabricated metals, machinery and motor vehicles are considerably ahead of a year-ago levels (up from 4 to 10 per cent). Yet, except for electrical machinery, they've all tapered off since February."

In the week ended April 23, said William Papier, director of the BUC's division of research and statistics, 108,000 persons were unemployed one week or longer, and were claiming benefits under the Ohio Unemployment Compensation law. In the past four weeks, however, the total gradually has been dropping.

Papier said one of the reasons for the higher number claiming benefits was the unusually cold weather which retarded outdoor construction throughout the first quarter of this year. Orders apparently below expectations probably caused the unemployment of manufacturing workers—chiefly producers of durable goods such as steel, automobiles and fabricated metals, Papier said.

March benefits totaled $18,600,000, or 29 per cent above March of 1959. In the first quarter of 1960 the total was $47,300,000, half a million below the first quarter of 1959. Temporary extended benefits were payable in 1959, but not in 1960. On the other hand, more unemployment and a more liberal law lifted 1960 totals.

The average check per week for total unemployment is $41, a fourth more than in March of 1959.

2 Killers Face New Trial As Judge Dies

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Two young killers faced a new trial today after a judge died on the eve of sentencing them to life imprisonment or death in the gas chamber.

Robert Fulmer, 20, and Charles Lindstrom, 19, won a new trial Wednesday. They had confessed the Jan. 17 gun slaying of dairy attendant Leonard Moore during a robbery attempt.

Judge Joseph M. Maltby died Tuesday of a stroke.

Navy Obtains First Picture Of Sun With Invisible X-Ray

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Using schoolboy "shoebox camera" techniques in a space rocket, the Navy has obtained the first picture of the sun by its own invisible X-ray light.

Dr. Herbert Friedman of the Naval Research Laboratory reported the development today in a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the Academy of Sciences.

X-rays from the sun help at times to bedevil radio and other communications on the earth. And the new experiment conceivably will help in the effort to combat them, the report indicated.

Friedman said the unique photo of the sun was taken last week from a rocket soaring 130 miles above New Mexico. The experiment used a camera based on the pinhole method familiar to a lot of do-it-yourself amateur photographers.

This is a method in which a pinhole is poked into one end of a shoebox to admit light, while a tiny square patch is cut in the other end of the box and covered with tissue paper to serve as a viewing piece. The image on the tissue paper appears inverted and its size is proportional to the length of the box. The finer the pinhole, the sharper the image.

In the Navy's rocket camera, Friedman said, the pinhole was only five thousandths of an inch in diameter and the camera was only six inches long. Thus, visible light was blocked but X-rays from the sun got through.

Marietta College Gets OK On Radio Station

WASHINGTON (AP)—The communications Commission has granted Marietta College, Marietta, Ohio, its application for a noncommercial FM radio station at 89.3 megacycles.

The commission also authorized transfer of control of WLEC-AM-FM, Sandusky, Ohio, to Cleveland Broadcasting, Inc., for $420,000. The Cleveland firm operates WERE-AM-FM-TV and Erie, Pa., stations WERC-AM-FM.

Chessman Is Calm, Busy Man Awaiting Execution On May 2

By MOE RAISER

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—How is Caryl Chessman spending his final days awaiting his ninth scheduled execution May 2?

The convict-author is a calm but busy man—with mixed emotions.

One moment he is hopeful. The next he believes his 12-year fight for survival will end in the green gas chamber next Monday.

Many of Chessman's daytime hours are occupied by newsmen and photographers from many parts of the world.

They visit him in a small room and one question invariably asked is, "How do you feel about your coming execution?"

When I saw Chessman this week he commented:

"If you ask me how I feel about my approaching execution, let me say I do not believe I can project my feelings to anyone.

"I have been through this so many times that I just can't say how I feel.

"If I should live, I would like to drop back into complete anonymity. This life in a goldfish bowl is not pleasant."

Chessman was convicted in 1948 as the Los Angeles "Red Light Bandit" who forced sexual abuses on two women victims.

He has steadfastly denied the charges. He has refused to "finger" or identify a man he says was the bandit, although all of his judicial appeals are exhausted.

CAB Slates Hearing On Airlines' Routes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Civil Aeronautics Board examiner has set June 21 for a hearing on whether Lake Central Airlines shall continue to serve nine points in Indiana and Ohio.

Attorneys for Lake Central told examiner Joseph Fitzmaurice that the airline, whose authority to serve the cities has expired, wants to continue to serve them.

The points are Gary, Richmond, Marion, Muncie and Bloomington, Ind., and Springfield, Zanesville, Dover-New Philadelphia and Marion, Ohio.

Fitzmaurice said Lake Central's willingness to continue service and the absence of any other application means that granting new authority to the carrier will be "a routine matter."

As Demonstrations Spread

Collins, Truman At Odds On Counter Sitdown Issue

By PERRY MULLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LeRoy Collins is Democratic governor of the state of Florida, whose white citizens are heirs to a long tradition of racial segregation. He might be expected to deplore the current rash of lunch counter sit-downs by Southern Negro college students.

But when his state capital, Tallahassee, was hit by student demonstrations against segregation of department store luncheon facilities, Collins said:

"If a man has a department store and he invites the public generally to come into his store and trade. I think then it is unfair and morally wrong for him to single out one department and say he does not want or will now allow Negroes to patronize that one department."

Harry S. Truman is the former Democratic president of the United States from the border state of Missouri. He championed strong civil rights legislation while in office. He might be expected to support the lunch counter demonstrators.

But Truman declared: "If anyone came into my store and tried to stop business I'd throw him out. The Negro should behave himself and show he's a good citizen. Common sense and good will can solve this whole thing."

Thus it was Truman who surprised and pleased the segregationists, Collins who lent a measure of comfort to the integrationist as a new racial debate stirred the country.

The demonstrations started Feb. 1 in Greensboro, N.C., when four Negro college students staged the first lunch counter sit-down at a segregated Southern eating place. They spread to many cities of the South, with sympathy picketing of branch stores in the North.

Church representatives were drawn into the widening debate.

Gov. Collins' own Episcopal pastor in Tallahassee, the Rev. Jeffrey Alfriend, differs with the governor.

He said: "I am very tired of hearing it said, 'This is a matter of Christian conscience.' With me, it certainly is not. It is a matter of biological expediency and ordinary common sense.

"And finally, I question the motives or the intelligence or good judgment of any who encourage demonstrations which obviously will lead to increased racial tension and probably violence."

J. Dean Fleming, secretary of the Baptist laymen of Alabama, declared: "The objection to close association between white persons and Negroes stems from the lack of a moral standard on the part of the Negro and the belief that close association will bring intermarriage.

"The agitators are always referring to what other countries will think of the United States. We are not a bit interested in what they think of us."

To which, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, replied: "Close association hasn't brought about intermarriage in the North. Why do Southerners get so excited when the Negro wants to eat a hamburger at a lunch counter? What they are saying is that if we give the Negro equal rights under the Constitution, then white girls are going to marry them. That's an insult to white women."

Congressmen, of course, have gotten into the debate, along predictable geographic lines.

The Constitution is likely to loom large as, increasingly, the NAACP's fight against segregated Southern lunch counters centers on the courts. More than 1,000 Negro student demonstrators have been arrested on a variety of charges.

The NAACP is prepared to argue in their appeals that use of public force against the demonstrators constitutes discrimination in violation of the 14th Amendment.

Meanwhile, what do the young Negro demonstrators hope for?

One of them, Clement Carney, 21, jailed in Tallahassee, replied: "Desegregation of restaurants, theaters, bus stations and all other public places. And even the jails if we have to go back. White prisoners in the segregated section across the hall showed less discrimination towards us than people on the outside."

What do white Southerners intend to do to thwart these ambitions?

The Tallahassee City Commission has warned it will tolerate no more demonstrations. The argument has become an issue in the Florida gubernatorial campaign.

Alabama has threatened to cut off state funds to Negro schools that harbor demonstrators.

Several Southern cities are following President Eisenhower's suggestion and setting up bi-racial groups to work for smoother race relations.

General Conference Opens

Racial Dispute Threatens To Split Methodist Church

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A racially partitioned church structure, which enabled Northern and Southern Methodists to unite 20 years ago, today loomed as a possible wedge that could drive them apart again.

This was the crucial issue faced by the nation's largest Protestant denomination, as the quadrennial Methodist General Conference went into its first session on the matter.

On the eve of the test, bishops of the church said Wednesday night that the outcome will have a greater effect than any other conference decision on the present and future strength of Methodism "in America and beyond."

Up for consideration was a complex, explosive report on racial policy, drawn up by a 70-member commission in a four-year, $200,000 study that involved public hearings in 24 cities across the country.

It recommends continuance of a separate administrative jurisdiction for Negroes, arguing that this gives them the strongest voice in top echelons of the church. But the system is keenly opposed by some Northerners as a "symbol of segregation."

On the other hand, the report also proposed linking jurisdictional affairs, both white and Negro, more closely with the overall church government. This feature is strongly protested by some Southerners as an invasion of regional autonomy.

The 74 bishops, in their keynote episcopal address, commended the "general method and spirit" of the report, and said no course "will be acceptable that disregards the rights of any major segment of the church."

But they also reminded the 800 voting delegates of the church's official stand against any "racial discrimination or enforced segregation."

Jobless Not Dropping Though

BUC Describes Ohio Job Picture 'Relatively High'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation describes Ohio's labor market picture thus: "Employment is relatively high. But unemployment hasn't dropped off as rapidly as usual."

The bureau, reviewing the labor market situation during April, said "Over-all non-farm employment has remained fairly steady in recent months at 3.1 million. March 1960, however, was two per cent above March 1959. Steel, fabricated metals, machinery and motor vehicles are considerably ahead of a year-ago levels (up from 4 to 10 per cent). Yet, except for electrical machinery, they've all tapered off since February."

In the week ended April 23, said William Papier, director of the BUC's division of research and statistics, 108,000 persons were unemployed one week or longer, and were claiming benefits under the Ohio Unemployment Compensation law. In the past four weeks, however, the total gradually has been dropping.

Papier said one of the reasons for the higher number claiming benefits was the unusually cold weather which retarded outdoor construction throughout the first quarter of this year. Orders apparently below expectations probably caused the unemployment of manufacturing workers—chiefly producers of durable goods such as steel, automobiles and fabricated metals, Papier said.

March benefits totaled $18,600,000, or 29 per cent above March of 1959. In the first quarter of 1960 the total was $47,300,000, half a million below the first quarter of 1959. Temporary extended benefits were payable in 1959, but not in 1960. On the other hand, more unemployment and a more liberal law lifted 1960 totals.

The average check per week for total unemployment is $41, a fourth more than in March of 1959.

Navy Obtains First Picture Of Sun With Invisible X-Ray

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Using schoolboy "shoebox camera" techniques in a space rocket, the Navy has obtained the first picture of the sun by its own invisible X-ray light.

Dr. Herbert Friedman of the Naval Research Laboratory reported the development today in a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the Academy of Sciences.

X-rays from the sun help at times to bedevil radio and other communications on the earth. And the new experiment conceivably will help in the effort to combat them, the report indicated.

Friedman said the unique photo of the sun was taken last week from a rocket soaring 130 miles above New Mexico. The experiment used a camera based on the pinhole method familiar to a lot of do-it-yourself amateur photographers.

This is a method in which a pinhole is poked into one end of a shoebox to admit light, while a tiny square patch is cut in the other end of the box and covered with tissue paper to serve as a viewing piece. The image on the tissue paper appears inverted and its size is proportional to the length of the box. The finer the pinhole, the sharper the image.

In the Navy's rocket camera, Friedman said, the pinhole was only five thousandths of an inch in diameter and the camera was only six inches long. Thus, visible light was blocked but X-rays from the sun got through.

Chessman Is Calm, Busy Man Awaiting Execution On May 2

By MOE RAISER

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—How is Caryl Chessman spending his final days awaiting his ninth scheduled execution May 2?

The convict-author is a calm but busy man—with mixed emotions.

One moment he is hopeful. The next he believes his 12-year fight for survival will end in the green gas chamber next Monday.

Many of Chessman's daytime hours are occupied by newsmen and photographers from many parts of the world.

They visit him in a small room and one question invariably asked is, "How do you feel about your coming execution?"

When I saw Chessman this week he commented:

"If you ask me how I feel about my approaching execution, let me say I do not believe I can project my feelings to anyone.

"I have been through this so many times that I just can't say how I feel.

"If I should live, I would like to drop back into complete anonymity. This life in a goldfish bowl is not pleasant."

Chessman was convicted in 1948 as the Los Angeles "Red Light Bandit" who forced sexual abuses on two women victims.

He has steadfastly denied the charges. He has refused to "finger" or identify a man he says was the bandit, although all of his judicial appeals are exhausted.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from "Past 45" sparked my first letter to a newspaper.

Granted, some men are ignorant slobs who don't know anything about menopause — and care less. But my mother - in - law is the prize example of a woman who's been using it for all it's worth ever since I can remember.

She keeps her poor husband hovering over her with a fan in one hand and a shawl in another. When she's too lazy to fix a meal or make a bad she says she's "dizzy". When she talks out of turn (which is often) she says she's "very nervous." This has been going on for 20 years!

By contrast, my own mother takes her pills quietly and you never hear a word out of her. She opens and closes her own windows when she gets a hot flash, never calling attention to herself.

You said an enlightened husband can be a great help. Well, an enlightened woman can help herself a lot, too. Too many women cling to old wives' tales about menopause and think they have to suffer out loud or people won't know they're female.

God grant me the good sense, when I reach this time of life, to be gracious, considerate of others and to keep my big mouth shut.— DOUBLE O.

Dear Double: Thanks for your excellent letter. You are right when you say some women use menopause as a crutch and-or a club. If your mother-in-law has been complaining for 20 years she's a classic example.

The only defense against chronic complainers is a tin ear. It's really quite sad when people must inflict details of their ailments (real or imaginary) on their friends and relatives in order to get attention.

Smitten Or Bitten?

Dear Ann: I'm 18 and never have felt like this in all my life. This chick has the nicest personality of anyone I've ever known. Yesterday when I walked home with her I kept dreading the time when we'd reach her house.

This morning I felt light-headed and almost dizzy. Mom asked if I had a temperature. My heart started to pound when I saw her in the hall and I actually got weak in the knees. I got sort of a tight feeling in my throat and had trouble saying, "Hi." Could this be love?— REX.

Dear Rex: It could also be the flu — there's a lot of it around. See a doctor if the symptoms persist.

How To Lose Friends

Dear Ann: My husband teaches music in a small junior college although his major field is English literature. He's not really an authority on music but people think he is.

Some good friends asked my husband to give an evaluation of their niece's voice. She's 12 and a lovely, bright young girl but she has trouble carrying a tune. My husband didn't know what to say, so he finally told them as gently as possible, not to spend money on lessons as he didn't think she had any ability.

Now the people are cold to us and we are no longer friends. What should he do if he is asked in the future for his opinion in a similar situation? — FROZE OUT.

Dear Out: These people didn't want an evaluation — they wanted approval. Unfortunately, most friends are like this. In the future suggest your husband say he could not be objective about people he knows and suggest an evaluation by a stranger.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Local Gives Up Hope For Missing Trustee

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Local 100 of the Teamsters Union apparently has given up hope that its missing trustee, John Curtsinger, ever will be found. Curtsinger disappeared last November after leaving his home in Northern Kentucky to attend a union meeting here. Authorities believe he is dead.

The local decided Wednesday to hold an election in July to pick a successor to Curtsinger as trustee. Nominations will be made June 7.

Named Police Chief

CLEVELAND (AP) — John R. Fleischer, a patrolman two years and three months and only 31 years old, is new chief of suburban Westlake's 15-man police force.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from "Past 46" sparked my first letter to a newspaper.

Granted, some men are ignorant slobs who don't know anything about menopause — and care less. But my mother - in - law is the prize example of a woman who's been using it for all it's worth ever since I can remember.

She keeps her poor husband hovering over her with a fan in one hand and a shawl in another. When she's too lazy to fix a meal or make a bed she says she's "dizzy". When she talks out of turn (which is often) she says she's "very nervous." This has been going on for 20 years!

By contrast, my own mother takes her pills quietly and you never hear a word out of her. She opens and closes her own windows when she gets a hot flash, never calling attention to herself.

You said an enlightened husband can be a great help. Well, an enlightened woman can help herself a lot, too. Too many women cling to old wives' tales about menopause and think they have to suffer out loud or people won't know they're female.

God grant me the good sense, when I reach this time of life, to be gracious, considerate of others and to keep my big mouth shut.— DOUBLE O.

Dear Double: Thanks for your excellent letter. You are right when you say some women use menopause as a crutch and-or a club. If your mother-in-law has been complaining for 20 years she's a classic example.

The only defense against chronic complainers is a tin ear. It's really quite sad when people must inflict details of their ailments (real or imaginary) on their friends and relatives in order to get attention.

Smitten Or Bitten?

Dear Ann: I'm 16 and never have felt like this in all my life. This chick has the nicest personality of anyone I've ever known. Yesterday when I walked home with her I kept dreading the time when we'd reach her house.

This morning I felt light-headed and almost dizzy. Mom asked if I had a temperature. My heart started to pound when I saw her in the hall and I actually got weak in the knees. I got sort of a tight feeling in my throat and had trouble saying, "Hi." Could this be love?— REX.

Dear Rex: It could also be the flu — there's a lot of it around. See a doctor if the symptoms persist.

How To Lose Friends

Dear Ann: My husband teaches music in a small junior college although his major field is English literature. He's not really an authority on music but people think he is.

Some good friends asked my husband to give an evaluation of their niece's voice. She's 12 and a lovely, bright young girl but she has trouble carrying a tune. My husband didn't know what to say, so he finally told them as gently as possible, not to spend money on lessons as he didn't think she had any ability.

Now the people are cold to us and we are no longer friends. What should he do if he is asked in the future for his opinion in a similar situation? — FROZE OUT.

Dear Out: These people didn't want an evaluation — they wanted approval. Unfortunately, most friends are like this. In the future suggest your husband say he could not be objective about people he knows and suggest an evaluation by a stranger.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Local Gives Up Hope For Missing Trustee

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Local 100 of the Teamsters Union apparently has given up hope that its missing trustee, John Curtsinger, ever will be found. Curtsinger disappeared last November after leaving his home in Northern Kentucky to attend a union meeting here. Authorities believe he is dead.

The local decided Wednesday to hold an election in July to pick a successor to Curtsinger as trustee. Nominations will be made June 7.

Named Police Chief

CLEVELAND (AP) — John R. Fleischer, a patrolman two years and three months and only 31 years old, is now chief of suburban Westlake's 15-man police force.
